

Contents

Acknowledgments 9

Introduction 11

ONE The Scene 23

The Literary Life Today 25

Reviewing and Being Reviewed 44

Literary Biography 61

Is American Literature an Equal-Opportunity
Employer? 82

It's Only Culture 98

TWO Portraits of Novelists 113

Robert Stone: American Nightmares 115

Why John Irving Is So Popular 125

Bernard Malamud Goes Ape 136

John Updike: Promises, Promises 147

Ann Beattie and the Hippoie 159

How Good Is Gabriel García Márquez? 171

Mailer Hits Bottom 188

What Does Philip Roth Want? 207

Miss Ozick Regrets 221

The Sunshine Girls: Renata Adler and
Joan Didion 238

THREE The Older Crowd 255

The Ordeal of Van Wyck Brooks 257

Living for Literature: Edmund Wilson 269

Gray Eminence with a Blue Pencil:

Max Perkins 283

The Minnesota Fats of American Prose:

A. J. Liebling 296

Willa Cather: Listing toward Lesbos 303

The Riddle of John Dos Passos 319

James Gould Cozzens Repossessed 330

FOUR Amusements and Disasters

(Essays on Language) 351

Why Madame Bovary Couldn't Make Love
in the Concrete 353

Sex and Euphemism 367

The Noblest Distraction 384

Piece Work: Writing the Essay 397