

CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction: A Certain Continuity	1
Lewis P. Simpson
LSU in the Thirties and the Southern Review
Some Aspects of LSU Then	21
Robert B. Heilman
The Origin of the Southern Review	34
Cleanth Brooks and Robert Penn Warren
Conference on Literature and Reading in the South and Southwest, 1935	38
With an Introduction by Thomas W. Cutrer
Politics and Education	79
Huey P. Long
The Death of Huey Long	82
Charles East
The Cultural Context of the Southern Review : Problems and Issues
I. The Twentieth-Century South and the Image of the Writer
The Poet at Home in the South	97
James W. Applewhite
Southern Writers in Spiritual Exile	107
Walter Sullivan
The Home Voice in a Foreign Land	126
Elizabeth Spencer
The Afro-American Writer and the South	131
Daniel C. Littlefield, Moderator
Houston A. Baker, Jr.
Henry Louis Gates, Jr.
Gloria Naylor
II. Culture and Publishing in the South
Southern Culture: A Personal Meditation	155
William C. Havard	