

CONTENTS

|                                                                           |    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS                                                           | ix |
| INTRODUCTION                                                              | i  |
| RAE ARMANTROUT                                                            | 18 |
| POEMS                                                                     |    |
| As We're Told                                                             | 18 |
| The Plan                                                                  | 18 |
| View                                                                      | 20 |
| Up to Speed                                                               | 20 |
| Manufacturing                                                             | 22 |
| POETIC STATEMENT                                                          |    |
| Cheshire Poetics                                                          | 24 |
| LYRICISM OF THE SWERVE                                                    |    |
| The Poetry of Rae Armantrout, by Hank Lazer                        | 27 |
| MEI-MEI BERSSENBRUGGE                                                     | 53 |
| POEMS                                                                     |    |
| From Four Year Old Girl                                            | 53 |
| From Kali                                                          | 56 |
| From The Retired Architect                                         | 60 |
| POETIC STATEMENT                                                          |    |
| By Correspondence                                                         | 61 |
| A "SENSITIVE EMPIRICISM"                                                  |    |
| Berssenbrugge's Phenomenological Investigations,by Linda Voris | 68 |

LUCIE BROCK-BROIDO

94

POEMS

- The One Thousand Days 94
- Soul Keeping Company 95
- Periodic Table of Ethereal Elements 96
- Am Moor 98
- Carrowmore 99

POETIC STATEMENT

- Myself a Kangaroo Among the Beauties 100
- "SUBJECT, SUBJUGATE, INTHRALLED"
- The Selves of Lucie Brock-Broido, by Stephen Burt 103

JORIE GRAHAM

127

POEMS

- Exit Wound 127
- Covenant 131
- Prayer 134
- Gulls 135
- The Complex Mechanism of the Break 138
- In/Silence 140
- Philosopher's Stone 142

POETIC STATEMENT

- At the Border 146

JORIE GRAHAM AND EMILY DICKINSON

- Singing to Use the Waiting, by Thomas Gardner 148

BARBARA GUEST

178

POEMS

- Valorous Vine 178
- If So, Tell Me 179
- Confession of My Images 180
- Defensive Rapture 181
- An Emphasis Falls on Reality 183
- The Farewell Stairway 185
- Words 188

POETIC STATEMENT

The Forces of the Imagination 189

IMPLACABLE POET, PURPLE BIRDS

The Work of Barbara Guest, by Sara Lundquist 191

LYN HEJINIAN

222

POEMS

From Writing Is an Aid to Memory 222

From Happily 229

POETIC STATEMENT

Some Notes toward a Poetics 235

Parting with Description, by Craig Dworkin 242

BRENDA HILLMAN

267

POEMS

A Geology 268

POETIC STATEMENT

Twelve Writings toward a Poetics of Alchemy,
Dread, Inconsistency, Betweenness, and California
Geological Syntax 276

"NEEDING SYNTAX TO LOVE"

Expressive Experimentalism in the Work of Brenda Hillman, by Lisa Sewell 281

SUSAN HOWE

308

POEMS

From Chair 308

POETIC STATEMENT

There Are Not Leaves Enough to Crown to Cover to Crown to Cover 325

ARTICULATING THE INARTICULATE

Singularities and the Countermethod in Susan Howe,
by Ming-Qian Ma 329

|                                                                                                              |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| ANN LAUTERBACH                                                                                        | 353 |
| POEMS                                                                                                 |            |
| In the Museum of the Word (Henri Matisse)                                                                    | 353        |
| S T O N E S (Istanbul, Robert Smithson)                                                                      | 358        |
| POETIC STATEMENT                                                                                      |            |
| As (It) Is: Toward a Poetics of the Whole Fragment                                                           | 363        |
| “Enlarging the Last Lexicon of Perception” inAnn Lauterbach’s Framed Fragments, by Christine Hume | 367        |
| HARRYETTE MULLEN                                                                                      | 400 |
| POEMS                                                                                                 |            |
| Wino Rhino                                                                                                   | 400        |
| Fancy Cortex                                                                                                 | 400        |
| Music for Homemade Instruments                                                                               | 401        |
| The Anthropic Principle                                                                                      | 401        |
| Sleeping with the Dictionary                                                                                 | 402        |
| POETIC STATEMENT                                                                                      |            |
| Imagining the Unimagined Reader                                                                              | 403        |
| “SLEEPING WITH THE DICTIONARY”Harryette Mullen’s “Recyclopedica,”by Elisabeth A. Frost        | 405        |
| CONTRIBUTORS                                                                                          | 427 |