

TABLE OF CONTENTS

I. Introduction. Objective and subjective in contemporary thinking	1
1. Structuralism	2
2. Phenomenology	5
3. Irrationalism	7
4. Interrogativity	8
5. Negativity	10
6. Reflection and creation	11
7. Fantasy in science	13
8. Science and art	14
9. The figure "2"	15
10. Bivalence	17
11. The crisis of the aim	18
12. Philosophy and politics	21
II. Linguistic communication and genesis of ideas	25
1. Spirit	25
2. Writing	27
3. Number	32
4. Abstraction	34
5. Speech and logic	36
Conclusion	41
III. Logical and historical in the history of logic	45
IV. Practice: the crucial point of knowledge	61
1. The object of knowledge	67
2. The way to knowledge	69
3. The value of knowledge	85
4. The goal of knowledge	97
V. The object of materialist-dialectical logic	99
1. Dialectical method and dialectical logic	99
2. Elementary logic and dialectical logic	106
3. The laws of dialectical logic	113

VI. Dialectics of the logical forms of knowledge	123
1. Notion	125
2. Judgment	143
3. Reasoning	174
VII. Impossibility of transcending dialectical logic	197
VIII. Human mind and the future	207
1. Experience, experiment, production	208
2. Analysis and synthesis	210
3. Inference	212
4. Thesis and hypothesis	214
5. Prediction	216
IX. Philosophical rehabilitations	221
1. Language as "Obstacle"	221
2. Metaphor	223
3. Infralogical	225
4. Dialectics	226
5. Tautology and paradox	228
6. The Sophists	230
7. Intuition	231
8. Definition	233
9. Humor	237