

Contents

Acknowledgements	xiii
PART I
Birth traumas of the nation	1
1 Who killed Gandhi?	3
2 The event	10
3 The post-mortem	16
4 The memorialization	21
5 The repression	31
6 The unbearable of patricide	39
7 Oedipus in India	43
8 The pollution	51
9 The haunting	57
10 The guilt	64
11 The modernity of patricide	71
12 The Mahatma's endgame	76
13 Gandhism vs. Gandhigiri : the life and afterlife of the Mahatma	85
14 Beyond the monument: remembering the Mahatma	102
15 Gandhi and Anti-Oedipus	109

PART II

'My death is my message': Mahatma, the last 133 days	123
16 Arrival in Delhi	125
17 'Do or die': an old formula in the capital of New India	128
18 The final yajna	132
19 Partitioning women	145
20 Gandhi at an RSS rally	155
21 Saving India	164
22 Ahimsa: 'softer than a flower and harder than a stone'?	171
23 Hindu-Muslim amity	180
24 The art of dying	193
25 From repression to redemption?	200
Bibliography	203
Index	211