

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments xi

1. Introduction 1

- 1.0. Framing the Project 1
- 1.1. Analyzing the Data 7
- 1.2. The Structure of This Book 8

2. Apologies and Courtroom Apologies 11

- 2.0. Introduction 11
- 2.1. Apologies as Speech Acts 11
- 2.2. Definitions and Assumptions 12
- 2.3. Apologies and the Display of Emotion 15
- 2.4. Patterns of Forms and Contexts: Other Studies and This One 19
- 2.5. Apologies and the Context of Sentencing Hearings 22

3. The Context of Federal Sentencing Hearings 26

- 3.0. Introduction 26
- 3.1. The Structure and Functions of Sentencing Hearings 26
- 3.2. Allocution in Practice over the Years 32
- 3.3. Language Ideologies surrounding the Speech of Defendants 37
- 3.4. Sentencing Hearings in Three U.S. District Courtrooms 39
- 3.5. Summing Up 43

4. What Defendants Say in Response to Their Offenses 46

- 4.0. Introduction 46
- 4.1. Responding to the Offense by Focusing on It 47
  - 4.1.1. Assessments 48
  - 4.1.2. Responsibility 51
  - 4.1.3. Harm 59
- 4.2. Responding to the Offense by Giving a Personal Response 67
  - 4.2.1. Sorry 67
  - 4.2.2. Apologize 70
  - 4.2.3. Other Feelings 74
- 4.3. Defendants' References to Their Offenses 75
  - 4.3.1. Relatively Specific References 75
  - 4.3.2. Relatively Vague References 76
- 4.4. Summing Up 82

5. Defendants Talk about the Past, the Future, and the Present: Mitigations, Future Behavior, and the Sentence	85
5.0. Introduction	85
5.1. Mitigation	85
5.1.1. Explanations	86
5.1.2. Person-Based Mitigations	89
5.1.3. Mitigating the Offense	97
5.1.4. Mitigation for Family	99
5.1.5. Summing Up	103
5.2. Future Behavior	104
5.2.1. Positive Future	104
5.2.2. Redress	105
5.2.3. Abstain	106
5.2.4. "I Have Changed"	107
5.2.5. Summing Up	112
5.3. The Sentence	113
5.3.1. Sentence Requests	113
5.3.2. Sentence Acceptance	118
5.3.3. Sentence Criticism	119
5.3.4. Summing Up	120
6. Broad Features of Defendants' Allocutions	122
6.0. Introduction	122
6.1. Conversational Styles of Defendants	122
6.1.1. Nonstandard and Informal Elements	123
6.1.2. Politeness Markers	126
6.2. "Just"	128
6.3. Paralinguistic Indexes	133
6.4. Allocution Patterns	138
6.4.1. Frequencies of Code Use	138
6.4.2. The Morphology of an Allocution	138
6.4.3. Patterns of Use Characteristic of Groups of Defendants	142
6.4.4. Allocution Patterns by Courtroom	142
6.4.5. Distinctive Patterns of Written Allocutions	144
6.5. Summing Up	144
7. Conclusions	146
7.0. Findings	146
7.1. What Apologetic Allocutions Can Tell Us about Apologies More Generally	156
7.2. Final Thoughts	159

Appendix 1: Data Collection and the Defendants	161
Appendix 2: Coding System	164
Appendix 3: Transcription Practices and the Corpus of Allocutions	169
Appendix 4: Display of Allocutions by Coded Categories	207
Appendix 5: Sentencing Table	210
Notes	211
Works Cited	228
Index	237