

Contents

Editions of Frequently Used Texts	vii
Preface	ix
• Introduction— Peter J. Schakel	xi
I. GENERAL STUDIES
• “The Thing Itself”: C. S. Lewis and the Value of Something Other— Scott Oury	1
• Triadic Patterns in Lewis’s Life and Thought— Edward G. Zogby, S. J.	20
• The Creative Act: Lewis on God and Art— Janice Witherspoon Neuleib	40
II. THE RANSOM TRILOGY
• The Cosmic Trilogy of C. S. Lewis— Wayne Shumaker	51
• The Reeducation of the Fearful Pilgrim— Chad Walsh	64
• A Preface to Perelandra — Margaret P. Hannay	73
• That Hideous Strength : A Double Story— Richard L. Purtill	91
III. THE CHRONICLES OF NARNIA
Narnia: The Author, the Critics, and the Tale— Walter Hooper	105
C. S. Lewis’s Narnia and the “Grand Design”— Charles A. Huttar	119

Imagination Baptized, or, "Holiness" in the Chronicles of Narnia— Eliane Tixier	136
♣ Epistemological Release in The Silver Chair — John D. Cox	159
IV. TILL WE HAVE FACES
Till We Have Faces: An Interpretation — Clyde S. Kilby	171
From Mt. Olympus to Glome: C. S. Lewis's Dislocation of Apuleius's "Cupid and Psyche" in Till We Have Faces — Steve J. Van Der Weele	182
Archetypal Patterns in Till We Have Faces — Joe R. Christopher	193
♣ Notes	213
Index	225
Contributors and Editor	233