

Contents

Notes on contributors	page ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Note on the text	xii
Introduction	i
T. F. Wharton
1 John Marston at the 'mart of woe': the Antonio plays	14
Rick Bowers
2 John Marston: a theatrical perspective	27
W. Reavley Gair
3 Varieties of fantasy in What You Will	45
Matthew Steggle
4 Safety in fiction: Marston's recreational poetics	60
Patrick Buckridge
5 Insatiate punning in Marston's courtesan plays	82
Richard Scarr
6 Touching the self: masturbatory Marston	100
William W. E. Slights
7 'Two parts in one': Marston and masculinity	124
Sukanya B. Senapati
8 The Malcontent : hunting the letter	145
Kiernan Ryan
9 The Dutch Courtesan and the profits of translation	162
David Pascoe

10	Sexual politics in Marston's The Malcontent T. F. Wharton	181
11	Marston: censure, censorship, and free speech Janet Clare	194
12	Ill-mannered Marston Michael Scott	212
	Index	231