

CONTENTS

	PAGE
Preface	ix

PROLOGUE

Philosophy as Vision.....	3
---------------------------	---

PART ONE

ANCIENT VISIONS

Greek Philosophy and the Four Stages in the Life of Reason.....	29
---	----

I

The First Stage in the Life of Reason: Naturalism

Chapter 1. Democritus and the Vision of a World of Atoms.....	35
---	----

II

The Second Stage in the Life of Reason: Humanism

Chapter 2. Socrates, Founder of Liberalism: The Vision of a Free Man's Ethics.....	59
---	----

III

The Third Stage in the Life of Reason: Naturalistic Humanism

Chapter 3. Plato and the Vision of Eternal Things.....	87
Chapter 4. Aristotle and the Vision of a World of Potencies.....	116
Chapter 5. The Stoic Vision of Unconquerable Souls.....	154

- Chapter 6. Epicurus and Lucretius: The Anticlerical Vision of Free and Happy Mortals in a Godless Society..... 162

IV

The Fourth Stage in the Life of Reason: Rationalistic Mysticism

- Chapter 7. Plotinus and the Neoplatonic Vision of Descending Spirit..... 181

PART TWO

THE THEOCRATIC INTERLUDE

- Chapter 8. The Christian Vision of Damnation, Salvation, and Divine Love 193

PART THREE

MODERN VISIONS

- Modern Philosophy and a Four-Fold Classification of It..... 241

I

Naturalistic Rationalism

- Chapter 9. Bruno and the Vision of an Infinite God as the Soul of an Infinite Universe..... 245
- Chapter 10. Descartes and the Doubly Dualistic Vision of Mind and Body 252
- Chapter 11. Spinoza and the Monistic Vision of a Totalitarian Universe 262
- Chapter 12. Leibniz and the Pluralistic Vision of a Universe of Atom-Souls 270

II

Humanistic Empiricism

- Chapter 13. Bacon and the Pragmatic Vision of Knowledge as Power 285

CONTENTS

xvii

Chapter 14. Hobbes and the Vision of a Mechanistic Psychology and a Political Absolutism	291
Chapter 15. Locke, Prophet of Modern Liberalism: A Vision of the Birth and Growth of Knowledge.....	298
Chapter 16. Berkeley and the Vision of Absolute Immaterialism.....	306
Chapter 17. Hume's Vision of a World of This and That and One Thing After Another.....	314

III

Humanistic Rationalism

Chapter 18. Kant and the Vision of Mind as Lawgiver to Nature.....	327
Chapter 19. Hegel and the Optimistic Vision of the World as Objectified Reason	357
Chapter 20. Schopenhauer and the Pessimistic Vision of the World as Objectified Will.....	370
Chapter 21. Nietzsche and the Will to Power: A Vision of Anti-Christ	384

IV

Naturalistic Empiricism and the Bergsonian Reaction

Chapter 22. Herbert Spencer and the Vision of Materialistic Evolution	405
Chapter 23. Bergson and a World on the March: The Vision of Ascending Spirit.....	412

EPILOGUE

FROM EACH GREAT VISION

A Dialogue Between the Author and a Critic.....	429
---	-----

APPENDIX

Postscript—A Selected List of Philosophical Works.....	475
Index	479