

Contents

Introduction by the Editors	1
1. The prenominal allomorphy syndrome Eulàlia Bonet, Maria-Rosa Lloret and Joan Mascaró	5
2. Allomorphy in OT: The Italian mobile diphthongs Geert Booij and Bart van der Veer	45
3. L'allomorphie radicale dans les lexèmes adjectivaux en français. Le cas des adverbes en -ment Gilles Boyé and Marc Plénat	70
4. The nature of allomorphy and exceptionality: Evidence from Burushaski plurals Patrik Bye	107
5. Obviative prefix allomorphy in Sahaptin and Nez Perce Sharon Hargus, Noel Rude and Virginia Beavert	177
6. Phonologically conditioned suppletive allomorphy: Cross-linguistic results and theoretical consequences Mary Paster	218
7. Accentual allomorphs in East Slavic: An argument for inflection dependence Donca Steriade and Igor Yanovich	254
8. Syllable-counting allomorphy by prosodic templates Jochen Trommer	315
9. Lexical insertion occurs in the phonological component Matthew Wolf	361
Index	408