

Contents

Notes on the Contributors	ix
Introduction: A Changing Face Bruce King	1
Part I General Essays
1 'Nobody's Children': Families in Gordimer's Later Novels John Cooke	21
2 Collector's Art, Collective Action: The Search for Commitment in Nadine Gordimer's Fiction Graham Huggan	33
3 Black and White in Grey: Irony and Judgement in Gordimer's Fiction Rowland Smith	45
4 Placing Spaces: Style and Ideology in Gordimer's Later Fiction Brian Macaskill	59
5 Landscape Iconography in the Novels of Nadine Gordimer Kathrin M. Wagner	74
Part II The Novels
6 The Conservationist and the Political Uncanny Lars Engle	91
7 The Interregnum of Ownership in July's People Rosemarie Bodenheimer	108
8 The Politics of Place in Burger's Daughter Daphne Read	121
9 Making Metaphors/Moving On: Burger's Daughter and A Sport of Nature Susan Winnett	140

10	A Sport of Nature: Identity and Repression of the Jewish Subject Michael Wade	155
11	A Sport of Nature and the Boundaries of Fiction Stephen Clingman	173
12	My Son's Story: Drenching the Censors – the Dilemma of White Writing Susan M. Greenstein	191
Part III The Shorter Fiction
13	Feminism as 'Piffling'? Ambiguities in Gordimer's Short Stories Karen Lazar	213
14	Once More into the Burrows: Gordimer's Later Short Fiction Alan R. Lomborg	228
15	Archive of Apartheid: Nadine Gordimer's Short Fiction at the End of the Interregnum Jeanne Collieran	237
	Index	246