

Contents

List of Contributors xiii

Prologue xiv

References xvi

1. Bewildered, Blamed and Broken-hearted: Parents' Views of Anorexia Nervosa 1

Maryann Macdonald

Parents' views of anorexia nervosa 1

Mothers and their daughters 3

The myth of the ideal body and other contributing influences 5

What helped and what didn't 6

What might have helped 11

Hope: Lost and found 13

References 16

Contact address 16

2. Eating Disorders in Children: An Overview 17

Rachel Bryant-Waugh and Zyg Kaminski

Introduction 17

Eating disturbances in childhood:

Variations on a theme? 18

The diagnosis of anorexia nervosa in children 22

Great Ormond Street diagnostic checklist 24

Are early onset and later onset anorexia nervosa the same? 27

Summary 28

References 28

3. Physical Aspects 31

Abe Fosson, Rose de Bruyn and Shanthi Thomas

Introduction 31

Physical complications of anorexia nervosa 32

Investigations 38

Physical parameters as outcome measures during treatment 48

Summary 49

References 50

4. Epidemiology 55

Rachel Bryant-Waugh

Introduction 55

Some problems in epidemiological research on eating disorders 55

What is the incidence of anorexia nervosa in children? 57

What about bulimia nervosa and related eating disorders in children? 59

Is the incidence of eating disorders rising? 59

What do we know about children who develop eating disorders? 61

Finally: A word about dieting, dancing and modelling 63

Summary 65

References 66

5. Aetiology 69*Bernadette Wren and Bryan Lask*

Introduction	69
Biological factors	70
Psychodynamic models	72
“Regression” models	75
The possible role of adverse sexual experiences	76
Family models	78
Cultural explanations	79
Towards an integration	83
Conclusion	85
References	86

6. Prognosis and Outcome 91*Rachel Bryant-Waugh*

Introduction	91
The importance of outcome research	92
Methodological considerations in outcome research	93
Outcome in early onset eating disorder patients	97
Prognostic indicators in the early onset population	103
Conclusion	105
References	106

7. Assessment 109*Marianne Tranter*

Introduction	109
Initial assessment interview	110
Search for causative factors	110
History of illness	111
Parents’ management of illness	111
The severity of illness	111
Personal history	112
Family history	112
Assessment of family interaction	113
Individual psychopathology	116
Individual assessment interview	117
Case study 1	121
Case study 2	123
Conclusion
References

- 8. Management Overview 127
Bryan Lask
Introduction 127
Provision of information and education 128
Ensuring that adults are in charge 129
The need for hospitalisation 131
Target weights and ranges 132
A comprehensive approach 133
Stages of recovery 134
References 135
- 9. Nursing Management 137
Laura Glendinning and Michelle Phillips
Introduction 137
Admission of a child with anorexia nervosa 137
Diet 141
Meal times 144
The activity programme 147
Nurse-child relationship 149
Parents and their involvement 152
Weekend management 153
Discharge 155
Conclusion 155
References 155
- 10. Physical Treatments 157
Bryan Lask and Abe Fosson
Aims 157
Re-feeding 157
Medication 160
Conclusions 161
References 161
- 11. Behaviour Therapy 163
Jacky Knibbs
Introduction 163
Assessment 163
Intervention 168
Conclusion 172
References 173

- 12. Cognitive Approaches 177
Jeremy Turk
Introduction 177
Background 179
Cognitions in anorexia nervosa 180
Assessment 182
Treatment 182
Duration of treatment 187
Some specific issues relating to work with children 187
Illustrative case history 188
Conclusions 189
References 189
- 13. Individual Psychodynamic Psychotherapy 191
Jeanne Magagna
Introduction 191
The treatment frame 193
Duration of treatment 194
Assessment for psychotherapy 195
Suitability for psychotherapy 198
Aims and therapeutic method 199
Dreams 200
Treatment difficulties 203
Conclusion 208
References 208
- 14. Family Therapy and Parental Counselling 211
Bryan Lask
Introduction 211
Structural considerations including parental counselling 212
Communication 216
Family history 218
Conclusions 219
References 219

15. Group Therapy 221

Jo Trelfa and Clive Britten

Introduction	221
Some general considerations	222
Overview of the Unit groups	224
Specific groups	224
Key dynamics	226
Other serious problems	230
Staff group	231
Conclusion	231
References	232

16. Schooling 233

Anna Tate

Introduction	233
Mainstream schooling	233
How eating disorders impinge on schooling	236
An in-patient school programme	240
Conclusion	248
References	248

Epilogue 249

References	250
------------	-----

Author Index 251

Subject Index 259