

Contents

	Introduction	i
1	The Ocean, the Bird, and the Scholar: How the Arts Help Us to Live	15
2	Fin-de-Siècle Lyric: W. B. Yeats and Jorie Graham	27
3	The Unweary Blues: The Collected Poems of Langston Hughes	43
4	The Nothing That Is: Chickamauga , by Charles Wright	62
5	American X-Rays: Forty Years of Allen Ginsberg's Poetry	71
6	The Waste Land : Fragments and Montage	79
7	The Snow Poems and Garbage : Episodes in A. R. Ammons's Poetics	92
8	All Her Nomads: Collected Poems , by Amy Clampitt	120
9	Seamus Heaney and the Oresteia : "Mycenae Lookout" and the Usefulness of Tradition	130
10	Melville: The Lyric of History	144
11	Lowell's Persistence: The Forms Depression Makes	160
12	Wallace Stevens: Hypotheses and Contradictions, Dedicated to Paul Alpers	177
13	Ardor and Artifice: Merrill's Mozartian Touch	199
14	The Titles: A. R. Ammons, 1926–2001	211
15	Poetry and the Mediation of Value: Whitman on Lincoln	226
16	"Long Pig": The Interconnection of the Exotic, the Dead, and the Fantastic in the Poetry of Elizabeth Bishop	241

17	Stevens and Keats's "To Autumn": Reworking the Past	253
18	"The Circulation of Small Largenesses": Mark Ford and John Ashbery	274
19	Wallace Stevens: Memory, Dead and Alive	289
20	Jorie Graham: The Moment of Excess	304
21	Attention, Shoppers: Where Shall I Wander , by John Ashbery	322
22	Seamus Heaney's "Sweeney Redivivus": Its Plot and Its Poems	332
23	The Democratic Eye: A Worldly Country , by John Ashbery	356
24	Losing the Marbles: James Merrill on Greece	368
25	Mark Ford: Intriguing, Funny, Prophetic	389
26	Notes from the Trepidarium: Stay, Illusion , by Lucie Brock-Broido	399
27	Pried Open for All the World to See: Berryman the Poet	410
	Notes	423
	Credits	431
	Acknowledgments	435
	Index	437