

WILLA CATHER

The Emerging Voice

With a New Preface

SHARON/O'BRIEN

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

Preface, 1997	xv
Abbreviations	xxi
Introduction	3

PART I BACKGROUNDS

1	The Strains of Blood	11
2	The Great Unwritten Story	35
3	Transplanting	59
4	Shaped Imaginings	77
5	Enter William Cather	96
6	Divine Femininity and Unnatural Love	117
7	Manly Arts	147
8	Women's Voices, Women's Stories	166

PART II APPRENTICESHIP

9	Disclosure and Concealment: The First Stories	195
10	Presbyteria, Bohemia, and the "Garden Fair"	223
11	Hard Apprenticeship: European Travels and April Twilights	245
12	The Troll Garden	268
13	Paternal Voices	288
14	Maternal Voices	314
15	"A Gift from Heart to Heart"	334
16	Literary Inheritance, 1908–1911	364

PART III EMERGENCE

17	Building Stories: Alexander's Bridge and "The Bohemian Girl"	381
18	Every Artist Makes Herself Born	403
19	The Road Home: O Pioneers!	428
	Index	453