

Table of contents

Abbreviations and acronyms	7
Executive summary	9
A mandate for the development of a multilateral instrument on tax treaty measures to tackle BEPS	11
2014 Report – Developing a Multilateral Instrument to Modify Bilateral Tax Treaties	13
Introduction	15
1. A multilateral instrument is desirable and feasible	18
A. Developing a multilateral instrument is desirable: The benefits are numerous, while burdens can be addressed or avoided	18
B. Developing a multilateral instrument is feasible: Legal mechanisms are available to achieve a balanced instrument that addresses the technical and political challenges.	20
2. The nature of the treaty-related BEPS measures will facilitate the conclusion of a targeted multilateral instrument, which could be further expanded at a later date.	24
3. Next steps: Scoping the International Conference.	27
Annex A. A toolbox for a multilateral instrument for the swift implementation of BEPS measures ..	29
Executive summary	29
Introduction	30
A.1. A multilateral instrument can modify the network of bilateral tax treaties.	31
A.2. A multilateral instrument can provide flexibility in the level of commitment	41
A.3. A multilateral instrument can ensure transparency and clarity of commitments.	49
Conclusion	53
Bibliography	54