

A HISTORY OF NEW ZEALAND LITERATURE

MARK WILLIAMS
Victoria University of Wellington

 CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Notes on Contributors	page ix
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction Mark Williams	I
PART I 1760–1920
1. A World of Waters: Imagining, Voyaging, Entanglement Ingrid Horrocks	17
2. Early Māori Literature: The Writing of Hākaraia Kiharoa Arini Loader	31
3. Samuel Butler's Influence Simon During	44
4. Maoriland Reservations Jane Stafford	56
5. Katherine Mansfield: Colonial Modernist Bridget Orr	71
PART II 1920–1950
6. Colonial Ecologies: Guthrie-Smith's Tutira and Writing in the Settled Environment Philip Steer	85
7. Defiance and Melodrama: Fiction in the Period of National 'Invention', 1920–1950 Alex Calder	98

- |                    |   |     |
|--------------------|---|-----|
| 8.                 | Journalism and High Culture: Robin Hyde among the Cultural NationalistsNikki Hessel  | 112 |
| 9.                 | 'Simply by Sailing in a New Direction': The Poetics of DistanceStuart Murray   | 125 |
| 10.                | 'Rough Architects': New Zealand Literature and Its Institutions from Phoenix to LandfallChristopher Hilliard | 138 |
| PART III 1950–1972 |   |     |
| 11.                | Against the Social Pattern: New Zealand Fiction, 1950–1970Timothy Jones  | 153 |
| 12.                | Janet Frame: Myths of Authorship, 1950–1990Marc Delrez   | 167 |
| 13.                | Te Ao Hou: Te PatakaAlice Te Punga Somerville   | 182 |
| 14.                | Out of the Drawing Room and onto the Beach: Drama, 1950–1970Mark Houlahan  | 195 |
| 15.                | 'Physician of Society': The Poet in the 1950s and 1960sAlan Riach  | 208 |
| PART IV 1972–1990  |   |     |
| 16.                | From Hiruharama to Hataitai: The Domestication of New Zealand Poetry, 1972–1990Harry Ricketts and Mark Williams            | 227 |
| 17.                | The Novel, the Short Story, and the Rise of a New Reading Public, 1972–1990Lydia Wevers                                    | 246 |
| 18.                | 'DBed and chocolate wheaten beaten': Drama Defining the Nation, 1972–1990David O'Donnell                                   | 262 |
| 19.                | The Māori Renaissance from 1972Melissa Kennedy   | 277 |

PART V 1990–2014

20. 'While History Happens Elsewhere': Fiction
and Political Quietism, 1990–2014 291
Dougal McNeill
21. Anecdote in Post-1990 New Zealand Poetry 311
Anna Smaill
22. From Exploring Identity to Facing the World: Drama
Since 1990 330
Stuart Young
23. From Meadow to Paddock: Children's and Young
Adult Literature 347
Anna Jackson
24. 'Nafanua and the New World': Pasifika's Writing
of Niu Zealand 359
Selina Tusitala Marsh
25. New Zealand Literature in the Program Era, or, the Spirit of Nationalism Past 374
Hugh Roberts
- Index* 389