

Table of Contents

Editors' Preface	v
Foreword
J. Orley	vii
List of Contributors	xii

SECTION I: CONCEPTUAL AND METHODOLOGICAL APPROACHES

Part 1: Conceptual Approaches

Developmental Psychopathology as a Theoretical Framework for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
Helmut Remschmidt	3
Information Processing as a Theoretical Framework for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
Rick E. Ingram	25

Part 2: Methodological Approaches: Model-Guided Multilevel Longitudinal Research

Structural Models and Longitudinal Data in Research on Risk Factors in Adolescent Development
Rainer K. Silbereisen	37
Child Psychiatric Research: On the Plurality of Approaches and Their Integration
Christopher Gillberg	53

SECTION II: THE MATURING INDIVIDUAL FACING PATHOGENIC INFLUENCES

Part 1: Externalizing and Internalizing Disorders

Externalizing Disorders: Priorities for Future Research
Eric Taylor	67
Internalizing Disorders: Subtyping Based on Parental Questionnaires
Thomas M. Achenbach	83
Classification in Child Psychiatry: A Critique of Approaches Based on Parental Questionnaires
Antony D. Cox	93

Part 2: Maturational Issues

Disorders Related to Maturational Problems
Joest Martinius	99
A Closer Look at Maturational Factors
Aribert Rothenberger	107

SECTION III:
PERSPECTIVES OF INTERVENTION RESEARCH

Part 1: Epidemiological Basis

Epidemiology: Perspectives of Future Research Martin H. Schmidt	115
Further Suggestions for Future Epidemiological Research Frank C. Verhulst	129

Part 2: Evaluation Research

Indication for and Effectiveness of Specific Interventions in Child Psychiatry Herman van Engeland	135
Issues of Diagnosis, Intervention, and Outcome Measurement in Evaluation Research Andreas Warnke	145

Part 3: Long-Term Effects of Intervention

Play Group Therapy: Processes and Patterns and Delayed Effects V. Bell, S. Lyne, I. Kolvin	149
Methodological Problems in Investigating Long-Term Effects Fritz Poustka	165
Possible Mechanisms of Long-Term Effectiveness A. R. Nicol, I. Kolvin, A. Macmillan, F. Wolstenholme	171
The Challenge of Evaluation of Intervention Fredrik Almqvist	179

SECTION IV:
PERSPECTIVES OF PREVENTION RESEARCH

Part 1: Prediction—Starting Point of Prevention

Conduct Problems as Predictors of Substance Abuse Lee N. Robins	187
Conduct Disorder and Later Substance Abuse: The Mechanisms of Continuity Stephen Wolkind	213
Childhood Personality and the Prediction of Alcohol Abuse in Young Adults: A Prospective Longitudinal Study Michael Bohman, C. Robert Cloninger, Sören Sigvardsson	221
Prediction and Prevention Yannis Tsiantis	231

Part 2: Evaluation Research in the Field of Prevention

Prevention Research on Early Risk Behaviors in Cross-Cultural Studies Sheppard G. Kellam, James C. Anthony, C. Hendricks Brown, Lawrence Dolan, Lisa Werthamer-Larsson, Renate Wilson	241
Strategies for Prevention Research Jon Rolf	255

Part 3: Putting Preventive Knowledge into Practice

Prevention Research: The Need for a Realistic Approach Christian Klicpera	285
Barriers to Implementation of Research Findings Philip Graham	289
From Prevention to Promotion Ingrid Spurkland	303
Author Index	309
Subject Index	315