

Contents

Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
INTRODUCTION. Textual Vehicles: The Automobile and American Literature	3
CHAPTER 1. Romancing the Machine: America Courts the Auto	13
Automobility Before the Automobile	13
The Automobile Age Arrives	19
The Car Comes to Broadway	23
Sinclair Lewis and America's Marriage to the Automobile	24
Free Air	26
A Six-Cylinder Courtship	34
"Speed"	35
CHAPTER 2. From Romantic to Rogue: Satire and the Auto	41
Altering Our Ideals: The Magnificent Ambersons	41
The Car Comes to Main Street	43
Main Street	44
Babbitt	46
Dodsworth	47
Gatsby and "The Arrogance of Wealth"	51

CHAPTER 3. An Intricate Relationship: The Car as Complex Signifier	57
“Discipline Perfectly Embroidered”: Ford as Fiction	58
The Flivver King	64
Ragtime	67
John Dos Passos	69
“The Inescapable Destiny”: Cars and Rural America	71
Erskine Caldwell	72
John Steinbeck	76
William Faulkner	84
CHAPTER 4. Permanent Union/Impossible Escape: Post- War Literature and Automobility	97
Driving Miss Flannery	99
The Road as Life	110
Jack Kerouac	110
Vladimir Nabokov	118
Rabbit in Traffic	121
Crossing the White Line	131
Arna Bontemps	132
Richard Wright	134
Ralph Ellison	136
E. L. Doctorow	137
CHAPTER 5. “Where We Are in America”:
Contemporary Representations of Automobility	141
Rotting Birds and Blue Convertibles: Joy Williams’s Failed Escapes	142
“Useful Junk”: Louise Erdrich’s Mystical Vehicles	150
Ann Beattie’s Shifting Symbols	156
On the Road — Revisited	163
Harry Crews’s Car	166
A Complex and Inescapable Symbol	175

Contents	ix
Notes	175
Bibliography	185
Index	195