

Contents

Introduction	ix
JOHN KRAMER The American College Mystery: An Interpretative History	1
ANDREW TAYLOR The Oxbridge Way of Death	15
MARTIN EDWARDS “He’s not dead. He’s in Balliol.”	25
SUSANNE RAUTER Medieval Scholars and Crime: Combining the Academic and the Historical Modes of Detective Fiction	35
B.J. RAHN Who Gets Away with Murder in Detective Fiction	45
RON HAMM The Value-Added Component in Selected Contemporary American Academic Crime Fiction	59
VON PITTMAN The Good, the Bad, and the Clueless: Night School in the Academic Mystery	75
SUSANNE M. MAIER The Scholar as Detective: The Literary Life of Carolyn G. Heilbrun as Amanda Cross’s Kate Fansler	95
UWE BAUMANN The Campus—A Cozy Place where Comedy Meets Crime: Charlotte MacLeod’s Rest You Merry , Robert Robinson’s Landscape with Dead Dons , and Ruth Dudley Edwards’ Matricide at St Martha’s	115
MARSHA McCURLEY Murder in the Stacks: Defining the Academic Bibliomystery	143

Contents

AMY ROMIG Authors in the Titles of College Mystery Novels: A Call to Authority or Just Name Dropping?	153
PETER NOVER Shrewsbury College Revisited: Ovidian and Shakespearean Traces in Gaudy Night	163
BARRIE HAYNE “Knowing Their Business and Attending to It”: The Professoriat and the Police Force	179
J.K. VAN DOVER Tough Guys and Ivory Towers	199
Notes on the Authors	221