

RENDERING THINGS VISIBLE

*Essays
on South African Literary Culture*

Edited by Martin Trump

Ravan Press

Johannesburg

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| The Contributors   | vii |
| Introduction   | x   |
| 1. Literary-Intellectual Behaviour in South AfricaRory Ryan  | 1   |
| 2. Building a National Culture in South AfricaKaren Press  | 22  |
| 3. Revolution and Reality:South African Fiction in the 1980sStephen Clingman                                | 41  |
| 4. Beyond the Interregnum:A Note on the Ending of July's PeopleNicholas Visser                              | 61  |
| 5. New Criteria for an 'Abnormal Mutation'?An Evaluation of Gordimer's A Sport of NatureBrenda Cooper | 68  |
| 6. The Problem of History in the Fiction of J.M. CoetzeeDavid Attwell  | 94  |
| 7. Raising Goose-Pimples:Wilbur Smith and the Politics of RageDavid Maughan-Brown                           | 134 |
| 8. Part of the Struggle:Black Writing and the South African Liberation MovementMartin Trump                 | 161 |
| 9. Storytelling and Politics in FictionMichael Vaughan   | 186 |

- |     |  |     |
|-----|--|-----|
| 10. | The Marabi Dance:A Working Class Novel?Kelwyn Sole and Eddie Koch  | 205 |
| 11. | M'a-Ngoana O Tšoare Thipa ka Bohaleng –The Child's Mother Grabs the Sharp End of the Knife:Women as Mothers, Women as WritersDorothy Driver | 225 |
| 12. | Ideology and the Study of White South African EnglishPoetryDirk Klopper  | 256 |
| 13. | 'Even under the Rine of Terror . . .':Insurgent South African PoetryJeremy Cronin  | 295 |
| 14. | Collective Creativity:Theatre for a Post-Apartheid SocietyIan Steadman   | 307 |
| 15. | Literature and Crisis:One Hundred Years of Afrikaans Literature and AfrikanerNationalismAmpie Coetzee                                       | 322 |
| 16. | Die Skrille Sonbesies:Emergent Black Afrikaans Poets in Search of AuthorityHein Willemsse  | 367 |