

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Series Editors' Introduction	xi
The Italian Enlightenment Reform of the Querelle des Femmes	1
Volume Editors' Bibliography	23
I Giuseppa Eleonora Barbapiccola	37
Translator's Introduction	37
The Translator to the Reader: Preface to René Descartes's Principles of Philosophy (1722)	47
II The Debate of the Academy of the Ricovrati	67
Translator's Introduction	67
To the Gracious Reader, from Giovanni Antonio Volpi (1729)	77
Antonio Vallisneri, Introduction on the Problem: Should Women Be Admitted to the Study of the Sciences and the Liberal Arts (1723)	79
Giovanni Antonio Volpi, Women Should Not Be Admitted to the Study of the Sciences and the Liberal Arts (1723)	81
Giovanni Antonio Volpi, Protest Regarding His Academic Discourse on the Education of Women (1729)	93
Antonio Vallisneri, Judgment on the Problem (1723)	99