	Educational Psychology: A Tool for Teachers	1
	What Makes a Good Teacher?	2
	Why This Book Was Written	3
	Educational Psychology: A Problem-Solving Approach	3
	Teachers on Teaching: Learning to Teach	4
	Why Is Research in Educational Psychology Important?	5
	What Good Is Research in Educational Psychology to the Teacher?	6 /
	Research Methods in Educational Psychology	8
	Why Teaching Is the Hardest Job in the World, and Why Teachers Secretly Love It—A Dedication	15
	Summary 16 / Study Questions 17 / Suggested Readings 17
PART ONE:	chapter 2
DEVELOPMENT	Theories of Development	19
	Aspects of Development	20
	Continuous and Discontinuous Theories	21
	Piaget's Theory of Cognitive Development	22
	Principal Concepts in Piaget's Theory	22 /
	The Stages	24 /
	Criticisms and Revisions of Piaget's Theory	35
	Theory into Practice: Piaget's Theory of Cognitive Development	36
	Erikson's Theory of Personal and Social Development	37
	The Stages	39
	Teachers on Teaching: Personal and Social Development	41
	Theory into Practice: Personal and Social Development	44
	Moral Reasoning	47
	Piaget's Theory of Moral Development	47 /
	Kohlberg's Stages of Moral Reasoning	49
	Teachers on Teaching: Moral Reasoning	49
	Limitations of Kohlberg's Theory	52

Relationships Among Major Theories	52
Summary 54 / Study Questions 55 / Suggested Readings 56
Chapter 3
Development During Childhood and Adolescence	59
Development During Early Childhood	60
Physical Development 60 / Cognitive Abilities 62 / Language 62 / Early Childhood Education 65 / Socioemotional Development 68 / Play 70
Theory into Practice: Teaching Preschoolers and Kindergartners	72
Development During Middle Childhood	74
Physical Development 75 / Cognitive Abilities 76
Teachers on Teaching: Elementary School Teaching	79
Socioemotional Development 80
Theory into Practice: Teaching Elementary-Age Children	84
Development During Adolescence	86
Physical Development 86 / Cognitive Abilities 88
Teachers on Teaching: Junior High and High School Teaching	90
Socioemotional Development 92 / Problems of Adolescence 98
Theory into Practice: Teaching Junior High and High School Students	100
Summary 102 / Study Questions 104 / Suggested Readings 105

PART TWO: LEARNING

chapter 4
Behavioral Theories of Learning	107
What Is Learning?	108
Theories of Learning	109
Evolution of Behavioral Learning Theories	109
Ivan Pavlov: Classical Conditioning 109 / E. L. Thorndike: The Law of Effect 111 / B. F. Skinner: Operant Conditioning 112
Principles of Behavioral Learning Theories	113
Consequences 113 / Reinforcers 113
Teachers on Teaching: Strategies for Reinforcement	115
Theory into Practice: Classroom Uses of Reinforcement	116
Punishers 117 / Immediacy of Consequences 118 / Shaping 121 / Extinction 122
Teachers on Teaching: Encouraging Desirable Behavior	123
Schedules of Reinforcement 126
Teachers on Teaching: Reinforcement Schedules	127
Maintenance 130 / Antecedent Stimuli 131 / Discrimination 132 / Generalization 132
Social Learning Theory	133
Modeling 133
Teachers on Teaching: Modeling	134
Self-Regulation 136

Applications of Behavioral Learning Theories	138
Strengths and Limitations of Behavioral Learning Theories	139
Summary 139 / Study Questions 140 / Suggested Readings 141
Chapter 5
Information Processing and Memory	143
Humans as Information Processors	144
Information Processing	144
Sensory Register 145 / Short-Term Memory 150
Teachers on Teaching: Focusing on Important Information	151
Long-Term Memory 153 / Levels of Processing 157 / Allocating Mental Resources 158 / Forgetting 160
Teachers on Teaching: Helping Students Process Information	162
Theory into Practice: Reducing Retroactive Inhibition	164
Memory Strategies	165
Verbal Learning 166 / Paired-Associate Learning 166
Theory into Practice: Paired-Associate Learning Strategies	168
Serial and Free-Recall Learning 170
Theory into Practice: Serial and Free-Recall Learning Strategies	171
Practice 173
Teachers on Teaching: Overlearning and Memorization	174
Summary 175 / Study Questions 176 / Suggested Readings 177
Chapter 6
Meaningful Learning	179
Making Information Meaningful	180
Rote and Meaningful Learning 180 / Inert versus Useful Knowledge 181 / Schema Theory and Meaningful Learning 182 / Helping Students Understand 184 / Advance Organizers 185
Theory into Practice: Advance Organizers	186
Organization of Information 187 / Questions 188 / Elaboration 189 / Generative Learning 190
Study Strategies	190
Underlining 191 / Note Taking 191 / Summarizing 192 / Student-Generated Questions 192 / Outlining, Networking, and Mapping 192 / Cooperative Scripts 192 / Effective Study Strategies: Conclusions 193
Theory into Practice: Study Strategies	194
Metacognitive Learning Strategies 196
Theory into Practice: Reciprocal Teaching	198
Teaching Thinking Skills 201
Concept Learning	202
Teaching of Concepts 204

Teachers on Teaching: Teaching Concepts	206
Transfer of Learning and Problem Solving	207
Transfer of Concepts	207
Teachers on Teaching: Helping Students Transfer Learning	208
Varied Context	209
Strategies for Solving Problems	209
Teachers on Teaching: Problem Solving	213
Cognitive Models of Instruction	215
Jerome Bruner: Discovery Learning	215
Theory into Practice: Discovery Learning	217
David Ausubel: Reception Learning	218
Theory into Practice: Expository Teaching	219
Robert Gagné: Events of Learning and Instruction	220
Summary	225
Study Questions	226
Suggested Readings	227

PART THREE: INSTRUCTION

Chapter 7
Organizing for Instruction	229
What to Teach and How to Teach It	230
Instructional Objectives	230
Types of Objectives	233
Objectives and Assessment	234
Bloom's Taxonomy of Educational Objectives	236
Research on Instructional Objectives	239
Outcomes of Learning	241
Taxonomy of Affective Objectives	242
Psychomotor Objectives	243
Theory into Practice: Planning Courses, Units, and Lessons	243
Teachers on Teaching: Instructional Objectives	246
Task Analysis	246
Arranging the Classroom for Effective Instruction	249
Teachers on Teaching: Physical Arrangement of the Classroom	250
Models of Effective Instruction	251
Effective Instruction: Not Just Good Teaching	252
Carroll's Model of School Learning	253
The QAIT Model of Effective Instruction	254
Summary	257
Study Questions	258
Suggested Readings	259
Chapter 8
The Lesson	261
Parts of the Lesson	262
Sample Lessons	263
Lessons: Step-by-Step	268
State Instructional Objectives and Orient Students to Lesson	268
Review Prerequisites	269
Present New Material	271
Conduct Learning Probes	274
Provide Independent Practice	278

Teachers on Teaching: Lessons and Homework	280
Assess Performance and Provide Feedback	281
Provide Distributed Practice and Review	282
Direct Instruction	282
Theory into Practice: Direct Instruction Methods	283
Research on Direct Instruction Methods	288
Discussions	290
Whole-Class Discussions	291
Teachers on Teaching: Class Discussions	294
Small-Group Discussions	297
Humanistic Education	298
Open Schools	301
Humanistic Education versus Direct Instruction	303
Summary	305
Study Questions	306
Suggested Readings	307
Chapter 9
Accommodating Student Differences	309
The Problem of Student Differences	310
Types of Differences	311
Learning Styles	312
Providing Appropriate Levels of Instruction	313
Grouping Students by Ability	314
Ability Grouping Between Classes	314
Ability Grouping Within Classes	317
General Principles of Ability Grouping	320
Teachers on Teaching: Ability Grouping	318
Theory into Practice: Ability-Grouped Active Teaching	321
Effective Use of Reading Groups	326
Assigning Students to Groups	326
Content and Pace of Lessons	326
Guidelines for Instruction	327
Cooperative Integrated Reading and Composition	328
Mastery Learning	329
Basic Principles	329
Theory into Practice: Mastery Learning	334
Individualized Instruction	338
Programmed Instruction	338
Team Assisted Individualization	340
Tutoring	341
Teachers on Teaching: Tutoring	342
Informal Remediation and Enrichment	343
Computer-Assisted Instruction	344
History of CAI	345
Types of CAI Programs	346
Research on CAI	349
Appropriate Levels of Instruction: Review of General Principles	350
Summary	351
Study Questions	352
Suggested Readings	353

Chapter 10
Motivation	355
Meaning and Importance of Motivation	356
Theories of Motivation	357
Motivation and Reinforcers 357 / Rewards and Reinforcers 357 /
Motivation and Needs 359 / Cognitive Dissonance 361
Teachers on Teaching: Increasing Student Motivation	362
Attribution Theory 365 / Motivation and Personality 368 / Achievement
Motivation 369 / Learned Helplessness 371 / Achievement Motivation and
Attribution Training 372 / Expectancy Theories of Motivation 373 /
Teacher and Student Expectations 375
Teachers on Teaching: Effects of Achievement and Expectations	376
Incentives for Learning	378
Intrinsic and Extrinsic Motivation 378 / Enhancing Intrinsic
Motivation 380 / Incentives for Learning: Basic Principles 382
Teachers on Teaching: Incentives for Learning	384
Classroom Rewards 386 / Praise 387 / Feedback 389 / Grades as
Incentives 389 / Goal Setting 390
Rewarding Effort and Improvement	390
Theory into Practice: Individual Learning Expectations	391
Behavior Modification and Home-Based Reinforcement Strategies 393 /
Cooperation and Competition 394 / Cooperative Learning Methods 395
Summary 398 / Study Questions 400 / Suggested Readings 401
Chapter 11
Classroom Management and Discipline	403
Time and Learning	405
Where Does the Time Go? 405 / Allocated Time for Instruction 407 /
Engaged Time 409 / Engaged Time versus Engaging Instruction:
A Caution 415 / Classroom Rules and Behavior 416
Theory into Practice: Management Concerns over the School Years	417
Teachers on Teaching: Management at Different Grade Levels	419
Discipline	420
Structure and Freedom 420 / Managing Routine Misbehavior 420 /
Managing More Serious Behavior Problems 424
Teachers on Teaching: Misconduct and Discipline	425
Behavior Modification	426
What Maintains Student Misbehavior? 426
Behavior Modification and Classroom Management	429
Individual Behavior Modification Strategies 430 / Home-Based
Reinforcement 434

Theory into Practice: Daily Report Cards	436
Whole-Class Behavior Modification	438
Group Contingencies	439
Teachers on Teaching: Solving Discipline Problems	440
Theory into Practice: Group Contingency Programs	443
Ethics of Behavior Modification	444
Delinquency	445
Preventing Delinquency	446
Summary	448 / Study Questions 450 / Suggested Readings 451

PART FOUR: INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES

Chapter 12
Exceptional Students	453
Who Is an “Exceptional Student”?	454
How Many Students Are “Exceptional”?	454
Types of Exceptional Students	456
What’s in a Label	456 / Mental Exceptionalities 456 / Giftedness 463
Teachers on Teaching: Teaching Gifted Children	465
Serious Emotional Disturbance	466 / Behavior Disorders 469 /
Communication Disorders	473 / Children with Physical Problems 475
Teachers on Teaching: Helping Exceptional Children	478
Special Education	480
Public Law 94–142	480 / A Continuum of Special Education Services 482
Theory into Practice: Preparing IEPs	486
Mainstreaming	492
Research on Mainstreaming	493
Theory into Practice: Adapting Instruction	496
Computers and the Handicapped Student	499 / Buddy Systems and Peer Tutoring 500 /
Coordination with Special Education Personnel	500 / Social Integration of Handicapped Students 501
Chapter 13
Social Class, Ethnicity, and Gender	507
Cultural Differences	508
Social Class	509
Schools as Middle-Class Institutions	511 / Compensatory Education 513
Ethnicity and Race	515
Racial and Ethnic Composition of the United States	516
Desegregation	520
Theory into Practice: Teaching in Desegregated Schools	521
Language Minorities	523
Bilingual Education	524

Theory into Practice: Teaching in the Culturally Diverse Classroom	526
Gender Differences	527
Actual versus Learned Gender Differences 527 / Gender Differences in Early Socialization 529
Teachers on Teaching: Social-Class, Ethnic, and Gender Differences	530
Gender Differences and the School 530 / Gender Differences in Achievement 532 / Social-Class and Sex-Role Differences 533
Theory into Practice: Avoiding Gender Bias in Teaching	533
Summary 535 / Study Questions 536 / Suggested Readings 537

PART FIVE: MEASUREMENT AND EVALUATION

Chapter 14
Student Evaluation: Tests and Grades	539
Student Evaluation	540
Why Do We Evaluate?	541
Evaluations as Incentives 542 / Informational Value of Evaluations 543
Teachers on Teaching: Tests and Their Uses	545
Evaluation Strategies	546
Formative versus Summative Evaluation 547 / Norm-Referenced versus Criterion-Referenced Evaluation 549 / Matching Strategies with Goals 548
Achievement Tests	551
Basic Principles of Achievement Testing 551 / Tables of Specifications 553
Theory into Practice: Writing Test Items	555
Teachers on Teaching: Designing Tests	564
Grading and Evaluating	568
Grading Criteria 568 / Assigning Letter Grades 569
Teachers on Teaching: Grading	572
Report Card Grades 573
Summary 574 / Study Questions 574 / Suggested Readings 575
Chapter 15
Using and Interpreting Standardized Tests	577
What Are Standardized Tests?	578
Uses of Standardized Tests	579
Selection and Placement 579 / Diagnosis 579 / Evaluation 580
Types of Standardized Tests	580
Aptitude Tests 582 / Achievement Tests 583
Interpreting Standardized Tests	586
Types of Scores 586 / Validity, Reliability, and Bias 592
Teachers on Teaching: Standardized Tests	597
Theory into Practice: Interpreting Standardized Test Results	599

Selecting Standardized Tests	604
Why Are You Testing in the First Place? 604 / The Uses of Standardized Tests in the Schools 607 / Problems and Issues in Standardized Testing 609
Summary 610 / Study Questions 611 / Suggested Readings 612
