

Surprised by Beauty

A Listener's Guide to the Recovery of Modern Music

REVISED AND EXPANDED EDITION

By Robert R. Reilly
with Jens F. Laurson

Foreword by Ted Libbey

IGNATIUS PRESS SAN FRANCISCO

Contents

Foreword to the First Edition by Ted Libbey	II
Preface to the Second Edition	13
Is Music Sacred?	17

I. THE COMPOSERS

John Adams: The Search for a Larger Harmony	29
Stephen Albert: Aiming at Epiphany	36
George Antheil: Bad Boy Made Good	40
Richard Arnell: Sheer Musical Vitality	45
Malcolm Arnold: English Enigma	49
Samuel Barber and His "School": American Beauty	55
Walter Braunfels: Beauty and Eternal Order	64
Frank Bridge: A Bridge Too Far?	72
Benjamin Britten: The British Neo-Renaissance	76
John Cage: Apostle of Noise	81
Alfredo Casella: Italian "Logical Discursiveness"	87
Maurice Duruflé: A Requiem to Die For	94
Edward Elgar: The Dream of a "Better Land"	97
Einar Englund: Out of the Shadows	102
Gerald Finzi: Intimations of Immortality	106
Kenneth Fuchs: American Rhapsody	110
Hans Gál: Unbroken	115
Steven Gerber: "The Integrity of the Musical Material"	124
Morton Gould: Maestro of Americana	130
Roy Harris: Singing to America	136
Bernard Herrmann and Nino Rota: Film Music and Beyond	143
Jennifer Higdon: A Musical Lark	150

Vagn Holmboe: The Music of Metaphysics	154
Leoš Janáček: Czech Passion	160
John Kinsella: Irish Liberation	167
Charles Koechlin: Aural Alchemist	173
Erich Wolfgang Korngold: Rejected Wunderkind	179
László Lajtha: Music from a Secret Room	185
Libby Larsen: The Natural Sound of Music	192
Morten Lauridsen: Shining Night	196
Jonathan Leshnoff: Reinvigorating Past Forms	200
Lowell Liebermann et al.: Keeping America Real	205
Gian Francesco Malipiero: Beyond Italian Opera	213
Frank Martin: Guide to the Liturgical Year	218
Bohuslav Martinů: Music with a View	225
William Mathias: Musical Incantations	232
David Matthews: Renewing the Past	237
Eric(h) Zeisl and Franz Mittler: Lost and Found Music	246
Carl Nielsen: Music Is Life	256
Francis Poulenc: Stabat Mater and the Carmelites	263
Günter Raphael: Mute No More	269
George Rochberg: Recovered Memories	274
Albert Roussel: The Freedom of Personal Vision	282
Edmund Rubbra: On the Road to Emmaus	289
Harald Sæverud: A Norwegian Original	297
Aulis Sallinen: Scandinavian Consolation	303
Ahmed Saygun: The Turkish Bartók	308
Peter Schickele: Schickele Unmixed	314
Franz Schmidt: Setting the Apocalypse	319
Othmar Schoeck: From Switzerland with Romance	327
Dmitri Shostakovich: Beyond Bombast	333
Jean Sibelius: Finnish Majesty	344
Robert Simpson: A Modern Classic	350

Sergei Taneyev: Forgotten for Looking Westward	355
Alexander Tcherepnin: From Russia with Love	362
Michael Tippett: A Child of His Time	367
George Tsontakis: Coraggio	372
Eduard Tubin: In from the Cold	377
Geirr Tveitt: The Music in the Waterfall	384
Pēteris Vasks and Einojuhani Rautavaara: Northern Lights	390
Ralph Vaughan Williams: Cheerful Agnosticism	398
Heitor Villa-Lobos: Marvelous Mayhem	405
Karl Weigl: "The Best of the Viennese Tradition"	413
Mieczysław Weinberg: Light in the Dark	418
Recovering the Sacred in Music	430

II. TALKING WITH THE COMPOSERS

Robert Craft on Stravinsky and Schoenberg: The Musical Antipodes of the 20th Century	443
David Diamond: America's Greatest Symphonist?	454
Gian Carlo Menotti: Heavenly Muse	465
Einojuhani Rautavaara: The Composer of the Angels	474
George Rochberg: The Recovery of Modern Music	483
Carl Rütti: Dancing before the Ark	494
Appendix: A Note on Record Recommendations	505
Abbreviations	509