

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
1 Introduction: Commitment and Complicity Begüm Özden Fırat, Sarah De Mul, and Sonja van Wichelen	1
Part I Rethinking Commitment
2 Commitment as a Nonperformative Sara Ahmed	23
3 Commitment or Commitment-Kitsch? Rethinking the 'Woman Question', Agency, and Feminist Politics Sonja van Wichelen	45
4 'Human' in the Age of Disposable People: The Ambiguous Import of Kinship and Education in Blind Shaft Rey Chow	64
Part II Commitment and Complicity in the Production of Knowledge
5 The Middle East and the Disciplinary (Re)Production of Knowledge Andrea Teti	81
6 Empty Versatility and the Art of the Circular Reading Timothy Brennan	102
7 The Commitment to Face Mieke Bal	120
Part III Putting Complicity to Work
8 The Necessity of 'Terror' Elleke Boehmer	139

9	Putting Complicity to Work for Accountability: An Australian Case Study Fiona Probyn-Rapsey	154
10	Layers of Labor in Cultural Production: Notes on Aesthetics and Commitment from the Transparent Factory Octavi Comeron	167
11	The Politics of 'Contemporary Islamic Art' Begüm Özden Fırat	182
	Index	195