

The International Aluminium Cartel, 1886–1978

The Business and Politics of a Cooperative
Industrial Institution

Marco Bertilorenzi

Contents

List of figures	xiii
List of tables	xiv
Acknowledgements	xvi
Note on archive sources	xix
List of abbreviations	xxi
 Introduction	 1
 PART I
From patents sharing to cartels: the rise of the Aluminium-Association (1886–1914)	21
1 Scale, scope, and agreements: the birth of the modern aluminium industry, 1886–1900	23
2 The Aluminium-Association: the dawn of the international cartelisation, 1901–1908	48
3 Changes at the top: the new Aluminium-Association, 1909–1914	74
 PART II
Competition and cooperation from the First World War to the Great Depression (1915–1930)	101
4 The Great Aluminium War, 1914–1921	103
5 The return of cartelisation: the European Aluminium-Association, 1922–1928	126
6 European Cartel versus American Trust: cooperation and rivalry in a difficult economic environment, 1928–1930	150

PART III

Business, finance, and politics: the rise and fall of the Alliance (1931–1945) 171

- 7 The new global cartel: the inception of the Alliance Aluminium Compagnie, 1931–1933 173

- 8 The ‘great transformation’ of Alliance: an international cartel in an autarkic world, 1934–1938 200

- 9 A cartel in the turmoil of the war: the causes of Alliance’s termination, 1939–1945 228

PART IV

Resumption, collapse, and criminalisation of aluminium governance (1945–1978) 253

- 10 Post-war governance for the aluminium industry: the sunset of Alliance and the rise of the ‘Club’, 1945–1953 255

- 11 Institutional innovations: towards a new balanced equilibrium in the aluminium industry, 1953–1969 281

- 12 The ‘swansong’ of the aluminium cartel: the end and the criminalisation of aluminium governance, 1970–1978 (1984) 314

Conclusions 348

Bibliography 364

Index 385