

Space to Act:
The Theater of J. M. R. Lenz

Edited by
Alan C. Leidner and Helga S. Madland

C A M D E N H O U S E

Contents

Introduction xiii

PART I

The Nature of Lenz's Writings

Language and Liberation in Lenz 1
NORMAN R. DIFFEY

Lenz's Style of Comedy 10
JOHN GUTHRIE

Der Hofmeister: Lenz's Sex Comedy 25
RICHARD ALAN KORB

"Die Folgen des ehlosen Standes der Herren Soldaten": Male Homosocial Desire in Lenz's Die Soldaten 35
ROMAN GRAF

The Descent of the Hero into Fame: 45
Büchner's Woyzeck and his Relatives
REINHOLD GRIMM

PART II

Lenz's Concept of Action

Seven Theses on the Problem of 60
Action in Lenz
MARTIN RECTOR

Contingent Spheres of Action: The Category of Action in Lenz's Anthropology and Theory of Drama THORSTEN UNGER	77
Motion Pictures: The Tableau in Lenz's Drama and Dramatic Theory JOHN OSBORNE	91
A Shattered Mirror: Lenz's Concept of Mimesis KARIN A. WURST	106
In Search of a New Religiosity: Herder and Lenz WULF KOEPKE	121
PART III
Performances, Adaptations, and Fiction
Lenz on Stage: Schröder's Adaptation of Der Hofmeister EDWARD P. HARRIS	132
"Man schaffe ihn auf eine sanfte Manier fort": Robert Walser's Lenz as a Cipher for the Dark Side of Modernity JOHN PIZER	141
The Reception of Lenz in the Final Years of the German Democratic Republic: Christoph Hein's Adaptation of Der neue Menoza TIMM MENKE	150

“Freundschaft geht über Natur” On Lenz’s Rediscovered Adaptation of Plautus BARBARA R. KES-COSTA	162
Notes on Contributors	174
Bibliography	177
Index	183