

Karin Aijmer • Diana Lewis

Editors

Contrastive Analysis of Discourse-pragmatic Aspects of Linguistic Genres

Contents

Introduction	1
Karin Aijmer and Diana Lewis
Part I Contrastive Analysis with Parallel Corpora
The Semantic Field of Obligation in an English-Swedish Contrastive Perspective	13
Karin Aijmer
English so and Dutch dus in a Parallel Corpus: An Investigation into Their Mutual Translatability	33
Lieven Buysse
What English Translation Equivalents Can Reveal about the Czech “Modal” Particle prý: A Cross-Register Study	63
Michaela Martinková and Markéta Janebová
Modal Adverbs of Certainty in EU Legal Discourse: A Parallel Corpus Approach	91
Magdalena Szczyrbak
Part II Contrastive Analysis with Comparable Corpora
Adverbial Clauses in English and Norwegian Fiction and News	119
Hilde Hasselgård
Coherence Relations and Information Structure in English and French Political Speeches	141
Diana Lewis

Part III Contrastive Analysis Across Genres of English

Callbacks in Stand-Up Comedy: Constructing Cohesion at the Macro Level Within a Specific Genre.....	165
Catherine Chauvin
Bush and Obama's Addresses to the Arab World: Recontextualizing Stance in Political Discourse.....	187
Laura Hidalgo-Downing and Yasra Hanawi
The Role of Metadiscourse in Genre Analysis: Engagement Markers in Undergraduate Textbooks and Research Articles	211
Tereza Guziurová	