

Contents

Introduction	7
Chapter 1: Motivation and Performance	13
Introduction	13
How to motivate students	19
Motivational strategies	19
Motivation and performance	27
Chapter 2: Anxiety and Performance	39
Trait and state anxiety	39
Causes of anxiety	41
Mechanisms of ego defence	42
The relationship between anxiety and performance	45
Test anxiety	50
Conclusion	54
Chapter 3: Stress	57
Reactions to stress	60
Stress and performance	61
The management of stress	68
Summary	86
Conclusion	88
Chapter 4: Fatigue, Worry, Health and Learning	91
Introduction	91
Sleep and fatigue	91
Worry	92
Fostering self-esteem	96
Modes of instruction	96

Chapter 5: Psychological Preparation for Examinations	103
The concept of psychological preparation	103
The need for psychological preparation	103
Goal setting	104
Study difficulties	105
The functions of practice tests	108
Concentration	113
Preparing for examinations: some general considerations	116
Conclusion	116
Chapter 6: Maximizing Examination Performance	119
Introduction	119
Common weaknesses in examination scripts	120
Characteristics of good scripts	121
Examination technique	121
Cognitive preparation	126
Concentration	127
Fatigue	129
Mental practice or mental rehearsal	131
Chapter 7: Confidence: A Popular Viewpoint	135
Loss of confidence	135
Developing confidence: some general strategies	135
Health	140
Summary	141
Index	143