

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction i

JENNIFER HARRIS AND HILARY IRIS LOWE

1. The Eighteenth-Century Author No One Knows and Other Problems: Promoting Jupiter Hammon on Long Island 21
JENNIFER HARRIS
2. “Step forth and again take up its magic pen”: The Author’s House as Informal Memorial 46
ERIN HAZARD
3. Keeping (the Spirit of) Thoreau Alive in Concord: Reflections on Diversity and Innovation in American Literary Tourism 67
KLARA-STEPHANIE SZLEZÁK
4. The Wide, Wide World beyond a Tiny, Deserted Island: At Home with Susan and Anna Warner 88
REBECCA REGO BARRY
5. “Afoot with my vision”: Whitmania and Tourism in the Digital Age 107
MARA SCANLON
6. Commemorating Writers’ Workplaces: The Case of Mark Twain’s Study and Quarry Farm 125
HILARY IRIS LOWE

7. "Shut not your doors to me, proud libraries!": The Repatriation of Edith Wharton's Library 146
CAROLINE HELLMAN
  8. Making a Little House: Literary Tourism at Rocky Ridge Farm 163
MICHELLE MCCLELLAN
  9. Author Homes in Coffee Table Books: Half-Reading, Literary Décor, and the Good Life 182
BEN DE BRUYN
  10. The Allure of American Authors' Homes: Surveying Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Literary Guides 205
Appendix: A Bibliography of Guides for Literary Tourists 223
SUSANN BISHOP
- Notes on Contributors* 231
- Index* 233