

Much Ado
About
Nothing
Language and Writing

INDIRA GHOSE

Bloomsbury Arden Shakespeare
An imprint of Bloomsbury Publishing Plc
B L O O M S B U R Y
LONDON • OXFORD • NEW YORK • NEW DELHI • SYDNEY

CONTENTS

Series editor's preface vii

Preface x

Introduction 1

Much Ado About Nothing: Comic or tragic? 1

Much Ado About Nothing and Shakespearean comedy 6

Sources of the play 12

1 Language in context 27

Setting 27

Style and grace 32

Wit I: Beatrice 38

Wit II: Benedick 44

Repartee 51

Malapropism 55

Clowns and fools 64

Writing matters 68

2 Language: Forms and uses 71

Rhetoric 71

Rhetorical strategies in Much Ado About Nothing 77

Prose 81

Prose and verse 85

Imagery 93

Controlling metaphor 96

- Character 102
- Writing matters 108

- 3 Language through time 111
 - Romance 111
 - Puns 114
 - Honour and dishonour 122
 - Shame 125
 - Appearance and reality 136
 - Seeming and being in Much Ado About Nothing 142
 - Appearances and power 148
 - Delusion and self-delusion 151
 - Metatheatricality 154
 - Writing matters 156

- 4 Language, performance and writing 159
 - Performance criticism 159
 - Film and stage performances 161
 - Writing a research paper 164

- Bibliography* 167
- Further reading* 171