

Unperfect Histories

The Mirror for Magistrates, 1559–1610

HARRIET ARCHER

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of Abbreviations	ix
Texts of the Mirror	xi
Introduction	1
1. Baldwin's Mirror, 1554–1610	14
Origins and Authority	16
Revision and Expansion	23
From Precepts to Precedents	30
2. John Higgins's First Part of the Mirror for Magistrates (1574–5)	39
Humanist Historiography in Crisis	41
Writing British History	50
Mediating Authorities	61
3. Thomas Blenerhasset's Second Part of the Mirror for Magistrates (1578)	73
Creative Isolation	75
History and Memory	84
Contingency and Individualism	96
4. The Mirour for Magistrates (1587)	110
Textual Stability	115
Topical Politics	123
Killing Seneca	129
5. Richard Niccols's Mirour for Magistrates (1610)	139
The Trials of Transmission	141
A Winter Nights Vision	150
'Polemic to Panegyric?'	161
Select Bibliography	173
Index	197