

CONTENTS

Preface	page vii
I. BETWEEN GOOD AND YELLOW	1
1. Material and formal elements	1
2. Lack of entailment between material and formal elements	7
3. The difference in moral and other notions is a difference in the formal elements	13
4. The formal and not the material element makes a thing or act to be what it is	15
5. The formal and not the material element enables us to follow a rule	20
6. The unity of formal and material elements	23
7. Elucidation of meaning by analogy	32
II. FOLLOWING RULES AND GIVING REASONS	37
1. Meaning and the formal element	37
2. Simple examples of notions:
(a.) notions formed about the inanimate world	42
(b.) a notion formed about ourselves	46
3. Comparison of the two types of notions	53
4. Following rules and giving reasons	58

III. COMMANDS, RULES AND REGULATIONS	66
IV. MORAL NOTIONS AND MORAL JUDGMENTS	92
1. Men of principles and moral principles	92
2. Situations and moral notions	103
3. The importance and validity of moral principles	111
4. 'Always good' and 'highest good'	121
V. EVALUATION AND MORAL NOTIONS	144
INDEX	163