

Contents

PREFACE

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

PART I Foundations

Chapter One: Bringing the Topic Down to Earth

What Is a Philosophy—or a Theory—of Law?

Comparing American and Jewish Legal Theories

Why Care about Legal Theories?

Theoretical Discussion 1: Models Used in Legal Theories

Theoretical Discussion 2: Biblical Criticism and Revelation

PART II The Core Concepts of My Theory of Jewish Law

Chapter Two: The Body of Jewish Law: How It Resembles Other Legal Systems

A Statement of My Own Theory of Jewish Law

Why I Am Not a Legal Positivist

Jewish Law as a Living Organism

CONTENTS

Chapter Three: The Covenantal Soul of Jewish Law: How Jewish Law Is Unique

The Body and Soul of the Law
The Meanings of "Covenant"
Our Relationship with God: The Covenant Model
The Problems with the Covenant Theory
Comparing the Covenantal Model to Other Possible Ones
Our Relationship to Other Human Beings:
    The Duties of Covenantal Love

PART III Implications of My Theory for Key Aspects of Jewish Law

Chapter Four: Motivations to Live by Jewish Law

Multiple Motives
Motives Suggested by the Bible
Additional Motives Described by the Rabbis
The Implications of These Motives for Moderns

Chapter Five: Continuity and Change in Jewish Law

The Roles of God and Human Beings in Interpreting and Applying Jewish Law
The Need for Interpretation
Retaining Coherence Despite Multiple Interpretations
Making Decisions after the Demise of the Sanhedrin
Retaining Authority Despite Multiple Opinions and Changes
Taking Jewish Law Seriously as the Prerequisite for Change
Continuity and Change in Our Time

Chapter Six: The Relationship of Jewish Law to Morality and Theology

The Theoretical Basis of the Morality of Jewish Law
The Practical Burdens and Benefits of Using Jewish Law for Moral Guidance

Integrating Jewish Moral Norms and Theology into the Process of Making Jewish Legal Decisions

Chapter Seven: Jewish Law and Custom

The Character of Custom

Two Types of Custom

The Differences between Law and Custom

The Interactions between Law and Custom

Custom: The Example of Women's Roles in Jewish Life

PART IV Explaining My Theory through Comparisons and Applications

Chapter Eight: Comparisons to the Right and the Left

A Theory Slightly to My Right: David Hartman

A Theory to My Left: Eugene Borowitz

Chapter Nine: Applications of My Theory of Jewish Law to Specific Cases

My Own Experience in Making Jewish Legal Decisions

How My Theory Affected Some of My Legal Decisions

Gaining Moral Guidance and Wisdom in Covenant with God

Bibliography of Modern Sources