

Frank Bliss

Home-Grown School Feeding as a “Good Practice” for Poverty Alleviation and Nutrition Security in Cambodia

AVE-Studie 4/2017

Wege aus extremer Armut, Vulnerabilität und Ernährungsunsicherheit

Ways out of extreme poverty, vulnerability and food insecurity

Content

Summary	6
1. Brief Country Analysis Cambodia	9
1.1 Socio-Economy and Poverty	9
1.2 Nutritional Situation	10
1.3 The Educational Sector	11
2. The Home-Grown School Feeding Programme: Introduction.....	13
2.1 Background of the Programme, Implementation and its Future	13
2.2 The Local Stakeholders.....	15
3. The Home-Grown School Feeding Programme: Realities and Outcomes	18
3.1 Methodology of this Review.....	18
3.2 How School Feeding Works and Some of its Outcomes	19
3.2.1 An Ordinary School Day	19
3.2.2 Some First Results.....	20
3.3 What Teachers and Parents Say	21
3.4 The Children's View	22
3.5 The Cooks	23
3.6 The Side of the Suppliers.....	24
3.7 Role of the Producers.....	25
3.8 The Engagement of the Communes.....	26
4. General Conclusions.....	27
References.....	29
Annexes	31