

Karen Sands-O'Connor

Children's Publishing and Black Britain, 1965-2015

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: We're Here Because You Were There—The Beginnings of Publishing for a Black British Audience	1
2	Postwar Education, Reading Schemes, and Race: Leila Berg and Nippers	27
3	Britain, Black Empowerment and Bogle L'Ouverture: Independent Black Publishing of the 1960s–1980s	53
4	The Multicultural Education Movement, Anti-Racism and Publishing for Children, 1980–1995	83
5	New Models for Engagement: Independent Publishing After 1990	113
6	Stephen Lawrence, Institutional Racism and Mary Seacole in the National Curriculum	135
7	Prizes, Awards and Publishing for a Black British Audience	157

8 Conclusion: We're Still Here Because You Were There—So Now What?	183
Index	191