

Brief Contents

Companion Website	xiv
Acknowledgments	xv
Note to Instructors	xvii
Preface: About the Book	xix
1 Introduction	1
2 Sounds	31
3 Patterns of Sounds	73
4 Simple Words in the Lexicon	109
5 Idioms, Slang, and the English Lexicon	147
6 Words Made of Many Parts	177
7 Putting Pieces Together	217
8 Building Bigger Phrases	249
9 From Phrases to Meaning	295
10 The Winding Paths of Language in Education	327
11 The Life Cycles of Language	361
Glossary	395
Index	421

Contents

Companion Website	xiv
Acknowledgments	xv
Note to Instructors	xvii
Preface: About the Book	xix

1 Introduction 1

Chapter overview	2
Language, languages, and the people who speak them	2
What is language?	3
Language differences	6
Language similarities	7
Variation through time	8
Variation today	9
Understanding the world of language	9
The complex nature of language	10
Judging language	11
Standard Englishes and vernacular Englishes	12
Grammars	14
Meaning	19
Standard Englishes and different world views	21
Structure	22
A tour of language	22
Chapter summary	22
Key concepts	23
Notes	24
References	24
Further reading	24
Exercises	25
Study questions	28

2 Sounds 31

Chapter overview	32
Learning about what you already know	32
Letters and phonetic symbols: a mismatch	33
Phonetic symbols: a convenient lie	34
Meaning, ambiguity, and arbitrariness	34
A sketch of sounds	39

Consonants and vowels	39
Consonants	41
Vowels	49
Are all language sounds important to all languages?	54
Making a difference: contrasting sounds with minimal pairs	55
Playing with voicing	56
Variation through time: how many sounds did English start with?	57
The story of R: part 1	58
Chapter summary	60
Key concepts	60
Notes	61
References	62
Further reading	62
Exercises	62
Study questions	71
3 Patterns of Sounds	73
Chapter overview	74
Predictable differences	74
Meanings with minimal pairs	75
Some sound patterns linked with social meaning	78
Structure	79
Sound patterns	86
Schwa rule	88
Deletion and insertion	89
Assimilation	90
The story of R (and L): part 2	92
Englishes and other languages	94
Variation through time	95
Variation today	96
Chapter summary	98
Key concepts	99
Notes	100
References	100
Further reading	100
Exercises	101
Study questions	107
4 Simple Words in the Lexicon	109
Chapter overview	110
Lexical ambiguity and arbitrariness	111
Our mental dictionaries: unlike paper dictionaries in several ways	113
The lexicon and synonyms	114
Structure	116
How to identify lexical categories	117

Content lexical categories	118
Function words: the mortar for the bricks	135
Chapter summary	139
Key concepts	140
Notes	141
References	141
Further reading	141
Exercises	142
Study questions	145
5 Idioms, Slang, and the English Lexicon	147
Chapter overview	148
Meanings change	148
The English lexicon	148
Lexical semantic change and the arbitrariness of language	151
How to create new words	153
Nonce words	159
Idioms	160
Jargon	163
Slang	164
Chapter summary	169
Key concepts	170
References	170
Further reading	170
Exercises	171
Study questions	175
6 Words Made of Many Parts	177
Chapter overview	178
Putting parts together	178
Morphemes	179
Affixes	180
Content and function morphemes	182
Suffixal homophony	186
Word trees	187
Morphemes and other systems	192
Variation through time	198
Variation today	202
Chapter summary	204
Key concepts	204
Notes	205
References	205
Further reading	205
Exercises	206
Study questions	215

7	Putting Pieces Together	217
	Chapter overview	218
	Meaning and ambiguity	218
	Structure and hierarchy	221
	Ambiguity and constituency	231
	Englishes and other languages	233
	Variation through time: a shift from more synthetic to more analytic	237
	Variation today	240
	Chapter summary	241
	Key concepts	242
	Notes	242
	References	242
	Further reading	243
	Exercises	243
	Study questions	248
8	Building Bigger Phrases	249
	Chapter overview	250
	Meaning and ambiguity: part 1	250
	Verb Phrases and traditional parts	253
	The motivation for Inflectional Phrases (IPs)	260
	The structure of Inflectional Phrases	262
	Building Inflectional Phrases	263
	Meaning and ambiguity: part 2	269
	Constituency in a different kind of phrase	274
	English and other languages	277
	Variation today	283
	Chapter summary	285
	Key concepts	286
	References	286
	Further reading	286
	Exercises	287
	Study questions	293
9	From Phrases to Meaning	295
	Chapter overview	296
	Meaning and ambiguity	296
	Another realm of language structure	300
	Structure and constraints	300
	Structure of intent and effect	304
	The structure of implicature	306
	Direct and indirect: getting the job done	309

A special kind of verb: performative speech acts with performative verbs	311
Discourse markers	313
Discourse scripts	314
Politeness	315
Communicative competence	317
Variation in conversation	318
Chapter summary	320
Key concepts	321
References	322
Further reading	322
Exercises	322
Study questions	325
10 The Winding Paths of Language in Education	327
Chapter overview	328
Language in education	328
Correct English	330
Prescriptive approaches to language	340
Descriptive grammar and genre conventions	345
Chapter summary	349
Key concepts	350
Note	350
References	350
Further reading	351
Exercises	352
Study questions	359
11 The Life Cycles of Language	361
Chapter overview	362
Language acquisition	362
Synchronic variation	369
Diachronic variation	374
World Englishes	383
Communication with so many Englishes	386
Chapter summary	387
Key concepts	388
Notes	388
References	388
Further reading	389
Exercises	389
Study questions	393
Glossary	395
Index	421