

Decolonizing the Republic

AFRICAN AND CARIBBEAN MIGRANTS
IN POSTWAR PARIS, 1946–1974

FÉLIX F. GERMAIN

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS • East Lansing

Contents

FOREWORD, Patrick Manning	ix
PREFACE	xi
INTRODUCTION	xv
CHAPTER ONE. Black Internationalism and Student Activism in Paris of the Fifties	1
CHAPTER TWO. African Migration to Paris of the Sixties	21
CHAPTER THREE. French Documentaries and the Representation of African Experiences	41
CHAPTER FOUR. Work, Housing, Colonial Relations, and the Formation of Oppositional Identities among Working-Class African Workers	57
CHAPTER FIVE. Caribbean Women in Postwar France, 1946-1974	75
CHAPTER SIX. Henri Salvador's Music and Working-Class Caribbean Males in Paris of the Sixties	93
CHAPTER SEVEN. French Labor Unions, Black Community and Political Activism, and Decolonization in Postcolonial Paris, 1960-1974	117
CHAPTER EIGHT. May '68 in Black	141
CHAPTER NINE. Music, Le Pen, and "New" Black Activism in Contemporary France, 1974-2005	159
CONCLUSION	177
NOTES	181
BIBLIOGRAPHY	213
INDEX	229