

James Murphy

The Discursive Construction of Blame

The Language of Public Inquiries

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

|          |  |            |
|----------|--|------------|
| 1 | Introduction                                    | 1   |
| 2 | Openings: Terms, Conditions and Getting Started | 17  |
| 3 | Questioning                                     | 47  |
| 4 | Blame Avoidance                                 | 103 |
| 5 | The (Non-)Assigning of Blame                    | 159 |
| 6 | Apologising                                     | 201 |
| 7 | Conclusion                                      | 267 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Appendix A: List of Public Inquiries Referred to                                  | 275 |
| Appendix B: Terms of Reference of the Public InquiriesDiscussed in Chapter 2 | 279 |
| Bibliography  | 295 |
| Index   | 307 |