

Desert in the Promised Land

Yael Zerubavel

Stanford University Press
Stanford, California

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	i
Part I: Symbolic Landscapes
1 Desert as Historical Metaphor	13
Desert and Exodus	14
Desert and Exile	21
Settlement and Redemption	27
2 The Desert Mystique	35
“My Heart Is in the East”	35
In Search of the Native	37
The “Hebrew-Bedouin”	42
Desert Lore	52
At Home in the Orient?	55
3 Desert as the Counter-Place	65
Settlement and Progress	66
The Desert, the Oasis, and the Island	74
Gendered Landscapes	81
Settlement Narratives and War Rhetoric	85
Part II: Shifting Landscapes
4 The Negev Frontier	95
A New Frontier	95
“Making the Desert Bloom”	108
New “Dots” on the Map	114

Periphery and Frontier	121
The New Pioneers	126
5 The Negev Bedouins	137
Exiled at Home	138
Towns and “Dispersion”	141
The “Wild South”	150
6 Unsettled Landscapes	159
Revisiting the “Desolate Land”	159
A National Dump	165
The Last Open Space	171
7 The Desert and the Tourist Gaze	179
Nature, Adventure, and Leisure Tourism	184
Archeology and Ancient Heritage	194
Bedouin Hospitality	198
Zionist and Religious Highlights	206
Epilogue	213
Memory, Space, and Contested Visions	213
The Oasis, the Island, and the Wall	216
Glossary	229
Notes	233
Index	327