

THE RENAISSANCE
ARTIST AT WORK

From Pisano to Titian

BRUCE COLE

Icon Editions

1817

HARPER & ROW, PUBLISHERS, New York

Cambridge, Philadelphia, San Francisco, London

Mexico City, São Paulo, Sydney

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Introduction	1
Communes and city-states • localism • the extended family • the Church • living conditions and housing • the Quattrocento world-view • potency of images
I. The Artist in Society	13
THE SOCIAL WORLD OF THE ARTIST	13
type of shop • apprenticeship • objects decorated as well as paintings and frescoes • no separation of craft from art range of objects carved • comparatively large number of painters • art not a luxury • painter families • succession of son from father • guilds and confraternities • written records of artists • changing self-concept of the artist
ARTISTIC TRAINING	30
learning by imitation • role of originality • high standard of craftsmanship • apprentices not always drawn from the already gifted • belief that art could be taught
RENAISSANCE ART: ITS FUNCTION, LOCATION, AND PATRONAGE	35
original religious, ritualistic, supernatural function of art • often closely tied to death • iconic and miraculous nature slowly changing • rise of the private collector in the early 16th century • private chapel decorations • decorations in other parts of the church • refectories • town halls • painted furniture and cassoni in homes • artistic patronage and commissioning, often to expiate sin of usury • committee system of patronage • the artistic legal contract

II. The Materials of Renaissance Art	57
importance of materials • tempera painting on panels • preparing the panel • underdrawing • drawings on paper • gilding • colors • effect of tempera on style • effect of varnish and overcleaning on tempera • museum lighting versus candlelight • impact of oil paint and canvas • priming other than white, half-tones and subtle transitions of color possible • fluency and modeling • collaborative nature of fresco suited to Renaissance workshop practice • sinopia • drawings on paper post-1450 • intonaco and plaster patches • fresco secco • drawing in ink, charcoal, chalk and silverpoint • rapid evolution of drawing • illumination • arrival of the woodcut • niello and engraving • raw material and tools of sculpture • painted sculpture • clay or wax models • relief, rilievo schiacciato • bronze • lost-wax process • terracotta • firing and glazes • woodcarving
III. The Types of Renaissance Art	137
altarpieces • diptychs • triptychs • polyptychs • predellas • pinnacle • paintings • iconographical conventions • polyptychs replaced by single-field altarpieces • painted crosses • standards • bierheads • ephemera • altar frontals • cassoni • painted trays • spalliere or painted panels • portraits, profiles and full face • ecclesiastical and lay frescos • patterns • martial events • ancient heroes • street tabernacles • equestrian figures • tombs • busts • collectors' bronzes • reliefs on pulpits • cantorie, doors, fonts, fountains • medals
Notes	199
Illustrations	205
Index	211