

Denying the Comfort Women

The Japanese State's Assault
on Historical Truth

Edited by

Nishino Rumiko, Kim Puja and Onozawa Akane

With the Violence against Women in War Research Action Center

Adapted from the Japanese by Robert Ricketts

Contents

List of figures	viii
List of tables	x
Notes on contributors	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
Figure acknowledgments	xvii
A note from the English editor	xviii
Introduction	1
NISHINO RUMIKO, KIM PUJA, AND ONOZAWA AKANE
PART I
Comfort women, the Kōno statement, and the quest for truth	15
1 The Kōno statement: its historical significance and limitations	17
YOSHIMI YOSHIAKI
2 Forcible mobilization: what survivor testimonies tell us	40
NISHINO RUMIKO
Insight on the issues: coercion, sexual violence, and rape centers in Yu County, Shanxi Province	64
IKEDA ERIKO
3 The comfort women and state prostitution	70
ONOZAWA AKANE
Insight on the issues: guilty verdicts for the traffickers of comfort women—the Shizuoka and Nagasaki incidents	87
MAEDA AKIRA

PART II

Why the Asian Women's Fund was not a solution 91

4 The failure of the Asian Women's Fund: the Japanese government's legal responsibility and the colonial legacy 93

KIM PUJA

Insight on the issues: the Tokyo War Crimes Tribunal, Class B and C war criminals, and Japan's Peace Treaty obligations 114

HAYASHI HIROFUMI

5 A reconciliation discourse that shuns survivors 118

NISHINO RUMIKO

Insight on the issues: the mobilization of Korean adolescents as comfort women—colonialism and the victimization of teenage girls 136

KIM PUJA

PART III

A realistic settlement is a settlement that victimized women can accept 149

6 Comfort women, textbooks, and the rise of "new right" revisionism 151

TAWARA YOSHIFUMI

7 The Japan–ROK claims settlement and the comfort women 166

YOSHIZAWA FUMITOSHI

8 Listen to survivors' voices! 181

YANG CHINGJA

Epilogue: the struggle for justice continues 197

NISHINO RUMIKO, KIM PUJA, AND ONOZAWA AKANE

APPENDICES

Key policy documents on the comfort women 205

Appendix 1: the Kōno statement (August 4, 1993) 207

	Contents	vii
Appendix 2: the Murayama statement (August 15, 1995)		211
Appendix 3: the Abe statement (August 14, 2015)		213
Appendix 4: the Japan–ROK agreement (December 28, 2015)		217
The movement for redress: a chronology of events (1988–2017)		219
Bibliography		238
Index		257