

Robert Lowell in a New Century

European and American Perspectives

Edited by Thomas Austenfeld

CAMDEN HOUSE

Rochester, New York

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
Thomas Austenfeld
1: Revisiting Robert Lowell's Mental Hospital Poems	14
Astrid Franke
2: Sensual Drift and Ethnic Longing in Robert Lowell	25
Steven Gould Axelrod
3: Reworking the Same Water: Robert Lowell
Transported	40
Jo Gill
4: "Sweet salt embalms me": A Hippocratic Approach to the Role of the Sea in the Poetry of Robert Lowell	54
Ian D. Copestake
5: More Delicate Than the Historian's Are the Map-Maker's
Colors: Correspondences between Lowell's Poetics of
History and Bishop's Poetics of Space	67
Boris Vejdovsky
6: Robert Lowell and Ezra Pound's Economics	81
Grzegorz Kosc
7: Robert Lowell and Ezra Pound in Washington and Rapallo	95
Massimo Bacigalupo
8: "Why Holland?": Robert Lowell in Amsterdam	105
Diederik Oostdijk
9: Lowell and Ungaretti: Imitations and Beyond	117
Francesco Rognoni

10: Robert Lowell's Credo Frank J. Kearful	131
11: "Marriage? That's another story": Reconsidering the Marital Trope in Robert Lowell's Poetry Philip Coleman	145
12: "Oh No"/"Yes Yes": Lowell and the Making of Mistakes Saskia Hamilton	156
13: Robert Lowell: The Power of Influence Thomas Travisano	170
Notes on Contributors	183
Index	187