

Contents

Preface		vii
Preface to the University Press of America edition		xi
PART I. THE THEORY: PHILOSOPHICAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL		I
Chapter 1	Dewey's Experience in American Schools	3
2	The Philosophical Rationale	17
3	Dewey's Plan for Work in Education	28
4	Education and the University Disciplines	35
5	An Image of the Teacher and the Dynamics of the Classroom	53
6	The Psychological Theory for Experimentation in Education	72
7	The Laboratory School: Hypotheses and Con- ceptions	88
8	The Sequence of Child Growth and the Educa- tional Program	102
PART II. CURRICULUM AND METHODOLOGY IN THE LABORATORY SCHOOL		119
9	The Occupations: In Theory and Practice	121
10	History as "Indirect Sociology"	135
11	Science	148
12	Communication and Expression (Language, Mathematics, the Arts)	161
13	Evaluation and Research	188
14	Secondary and Higher Education: A Search for Integration	197
15	Education and the Ethical Life	234
16	Postscript	268

Appendix	Plan of Organization of the University Primary School (1895?) A rationale for the Laboratory School prepared by Dewey prior to its opening	297
Bibliography		306
Index		315