

Contents

Preface Nancy Tuana	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Editor's Introduction	1
Part One: A Foucauldian Feminism?
1 Michel Foucault: A "Young Conservative"? Nancy Fraser	15
2 Postmodernism and Political Change: Issues for Feminist Theory Nancy C. M. Hartsock	39
Part Two: Sex / Body
3 Sexual Inversions Judith Butler	59
4 Technologies of Truth and the Function of Gender in Foucault E. L. McCallum	77

5	Dangerous Pleasures: Foucault and the Politics of Pedophilia Linda Martín Alcoff	99
6	Foucault Pumped: Body Politics and the Muscled Woman Honi Fern Haber	137
Part Three: Identity / Subject
7	Feminism, Foucault, and “Subjects” of Power and Freedom Jana Sawicki	159
8	Foucault’s Mother Jon Simons	179
9	Feminism and Empowerment: A Critical Reading of Foucault Monique Deveaux	211
Part Four: Power / Politics
10	A Feminist Mapping of Foucauldian Politics Moya Lloyd	241
11	Foucault on Power: A Theory for Feminists Amy Allen	265
12	The Philosopher’s Prism: Foucault, Feminism, and Critique Terry K. Aladjem	283
	Select Bibliography	299
	Contributors	309
	Index	313