

Contents

Preface xv

Note on Notes xxi

- 1 KIERKEGAARD: A PECULIAR KIND OF THEOLOGIAN 3
- Primarily a Theologian, Not a Poet* 3
- The Distinctiveness of Theology* 10
- The Objective Source of Theology* 14
1. Revelation in the Christ Event 15
 2. The "God-humanbeing" as Authority 22
 3. The Medium of This Authority: Conceptual Definitions 27
 4. Their Source: "New Testament Christianity" 35
 5. The Role of Church Tradition 38
- The Subjective Source of Theology* 44
1. The Faith-relationship with God-in-Christ 44
 2. Subjective Transformation of the Self in Love 47
 3. Kierkegaard's Own Personal "Being in Faith" 49
- 2 MY SELF: A GIFT 58
- The Gift and Givenness* 58
1. Human-being as Derived 58
 2. Awareness in the Faith-relationship 61
 3. Freedom for Accepting with God's Help 62
 - a. To Become One's Given Self 63
 - b. Or: To Refuse and Fail 63

The Giver: God	65
1. The Unconditioned	66
2. The Infinite Qualitative Difference	66
3. Defined in Three Concepts and Three Analogies	70
God as Being-in-and-for-itself	70
God as Infinite Subjectivity	75
God as Reduplication	77
God as Personhood	80
1. Definition of Personhood	82
2. Implications for the Three Preceding Sections	84
3. Conflict with Recent Ideas of God	87
a. Whitehead and Process Theology	87
b. Habermas	91
c. Tillich	92
4. Comparison with Karl Barth	98
a. Personhood of God as Unity of the Trinity	98
b. Denial of Personhood to Humans	99
(1) God as Pure Act	100
(2) Analogia Relationis Denies Human Identity and Freedom	102
(3) Freedom to Disobey Denied by Grace	109
c. How to Account for Sin and Guilt	113
(1) Misuse of Freedom	114
(2) Kierkegaard's Alternate Position	115
d. The Communal vs. the Individual	117
(1) Disobedience and Covenantal History	120
(2) Fulfillment Only in the Incarnation	120
e. Humanity-of-God as True Humanity	124
(1) Creation Serves God's Self-glorification	124
(2) Kierkegaard's Alternate Position	124
Summary of Kierkegaard's Doctrines of God and Human Nature	130
3 MY SELF: A FAILURE	132
The Mystery of Human Failure	132
1. Acknowledged in Contemporary Nihilism	134
2. Kierkegaard's Critique	135
3. Shift of View in Second Authorship	137
4. Relation of Failure and Despair	139

5. Why the Need to Fail? 142
 6. Outline of Answer 143
- Excursus on Freud* 144
1. The Duality of Libido and Ego 145
 2. The Uniqueness of Ego Functions 145
 3. The Problem of Ego Energy 145
 - a. Kierkegaard's Disagreement with Freud 148
 - b. Two Examples 149
 4. Psychoanalysis as Scientific or Humanistic 152
- Innocence as the Context of Failure* 155
1. The Biblical Story 155
 2. The Nature of Innocence 158
- Innocence as Disturbed by Angst* 165
1. Angst Evoked by "Nothing" 165
 2. The Language of Innocence 167
 3. The Extremity of Innocence: Death 168
 4. Beyond Innocence: Self-Consciousness 170
- The Fall: Freedom and Guilt* 173
1. Freedom and the Self's Instability 174
 2. Freedom's Failure: Looking at Itself 177
 - a. Freedom Lost in Dizziness 179
 - b. Failure as Rebellion against God 180
 3. Responsibility and Guilt 182
 4. The Three Signs of Failure/Guilt 184
 - a. The Primacy of Sexual Failure 184
 - b. The Moment of Becoming Self-Conscious 187
 5. Despair as the Way to Faith 189
- The Human Condition: Despair* 191
1. Despair as a New Category in the Authorship 191
 - a. Uniqueness of Christian View of Despair/Sin 192
 - b. Modifications of Christian Exclusivity 195
 - c. Kierkegaard's Resolution of the Contradiction 199
 2. Basic View of Despair 202
 - a. A Function of the Human-Being as Self 202
 - b. Involves All Elements of the Synthesis 203
 - c. The Elements as Related to Self-Consciousness 204
 3. "Disrelation" as the Key to Despair 205
 - a. Disrelation in Religiousness A and B 206

- b. Disrelation in Relation to Self and to God 207
 - 4. Omission of Relation to Neighbor 208
 - a. The Self "Before God" Requires Neighbor 209
 - b. Three Reasons for Omission 210
 - c. The Nature of Christian Suffering 214
 - d. The Role of Neighbor in All Despair 218
 - 5. The Despair of Ignorance: Immediacy 219
 - 6. The Despair of Weakness 223
 - a. Despair over the Earthly 224
 - b. Despair of the Eternal and over Oneself 225
 - c. Despair of Enclosing Reserve: Depression 228
 - (1) Inwardness with a Closed Door 228
 - (2) Depression in Either/Or 230
 - (3) Depression in Stages on Life's Way 232
 - 7. The Despair of Defiance 236
 - In Offense Despair Becomes Sin* 240
 - 1. Offense Possible Only "Before God" 240
 - 2. Sin Understood Only in Experience, Not in Concept 241
 - 3. The Uniqueness of the Christian Experience 243
- 4 MY SELF: IN NEED OF THE ETERNAL 246
 - The Dialectic of Human/Divine in the Encounter with God* 246
 - Part One: Kierkegaard's Ordo Salutis* 250
 - 1. The Nature of Confession 250
 - a. Must Be Before God 250
 - b. Solitude and Silence to Hear God's Word 251
 - c. Looking into the Mirror of the Word 254
 - d. Conviction and Confession of Sin 256
 - 2. The Dynamics of Forgiveness/Reconciliation 258
 - a. The Paradox of Jesus-God in Christian Consciousness 258
 - b. The Role of Indirect Communication 259
 - (1) Jesus as a "Sign" 259
 - (2) The Role of Reduplication 259
 - (3) The Nature of Christ's Suffering 260
 - c. Forgiveness vis-à-vis Confession 261
 - (1) To Become Self Before God 261
 - (2) Accomplished in Christ's "Drawing" 262
 - (3) The Issue of "Order" in the Ordo Salutis 263
 - (4) Illustrations from "First" Authorship 264

(5) Illustrations from "Second" Authorship	269
3. The Imitation of Christ	278
a. Characteristics of Following the Pilgrim's Way	278
(1) Conforming the Mind	279
(2) Learning Obedience	281
(3) Saying "Yes"	284
b. The Human "Yes" vis-à-vis Divine Sovereignty	285
c. Imitation as Living the Way of the Cross	286
(1) Learning by Doing	288
(2) The Way of Suffering	289
(a) The Negative Statement	291
(b) Its Origins	293
d. Imitation (Obedience) Related to Faith/Love	294
Part Two: Problematic Aspects of Kierkegaard's Ordo Salutis	297
1. The Complementarity of Faith and Love	297
a. Introduction	297
b. In Philosophical Fragments	298
c. In Works of Love	303
d. The God Relationship: Both Faith and Love	305
(1) Reason's Paradox	309
(2) Love's Paradox	311
(a) God as Personal	311
(b) The Principle of Reduplication	312
(c) Love as Giving	313
(3) The Paradox of Complementarity	315
2. Freedom in the Faith/Love Relationship	320
a. The Issue of Continuity/Discontinuity in Kierkegaard	321
(1) According to C.S. Evans	321
(2) According to M.J. Ferreira	324
(a) The Nature of Willing	326
(b) The Danger of Determinism	327
(c) The Locus of Continuity/Discontinuity	328
(3) According to D.J. Gouwens	331
(4) According to E.F. Mooney	332
b. An Alternative Position	334
5 THE CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY IN HISTORY	338
Summary	338
Kierkegaard's General View of Sociality	339

Christian Spirituality and Community	341
1. Christian Community Meets Human Needs	341
2. Possibility of a Spiritual Community	341
a. Always Intangible and Indirect	344
b. Not Identical with Church	344
3. A Basic Confusion in Kierkegaard	345
4. A Negative Theological Formulation	347
5. Possibilities of a Positive Formulation	349
a. The Created Self as a Synthesis	349
b. Human Weakness Not an Element of Failure	350
c. Sociality as a Middle-Term	350
d. Relevance of Triad of Self-God-Neighbor	351
(1) Transforms Triad of Self-Congregation-God	353
(2) Transforms Forms of Preferential Love	354
(3) Kierkegaard's Lack of Experiential Criteria	357
Christian Community and History	359
1. Definitions of History in Either/Or, Fragments, Postscript	359
2. Confirmed in Practice in Christianity	362
3. Failure to Develop Concept of "Sacred History"	363
a. The Need for Such a Development	364
b. Its Importance for Theodicy	364
Conclusion	366
Postlude	368
Bibliography	375
Index	382