

Contents

«About Eternal Life»	VIII
Introduction	IX
«Only the seeds» — The Question of Meaning and the view of mankind — The question of meaning in other cultures — What is the intent of this book — Psychotherapy of small steps — Why not all at once?
Foreword	XIII
CHAPTER 1: MEANING AND MAN
1. Meaninglessness as an Expression of One-Sidedness	1
Meaning and loss of unity — Hope and helplessness — Child rearing: therapy and the question of meaning — Social changes and the view of mankind — Consequences
2. The Meaning of Health	8
«The broken bowl» — Bodily health — Career, family, marriage — Future and meaning — Body, environment, time — Risk factors — The body-soul problem (psychosomatics) — Meaning and psychosomatic relationships — Three examples — Consequences
3. Positive Psychotherapy: Answer to the Question of Meaning	17
An example of positive procedure — Good questions — «The duel of the physicians» — Psychotherapy instead of psychopathology — The development of positive psychotherapy — Child rearing — Self-help — Psychotherapy — Transcultural problematic — What is this book leading up to? — Consequences
CHAPTER 2: GIVING MEANING AND FINDING MEANING
1. Transcultural Encounters	27
«Knowledge is power, sight is omnipotence» — Foreign laborers as a necessary evil — Why psychotherapy must be transcultural — Basic capacities — «Meaning of commonality» — What is the capacity to love? — What is the capacity to know? — Development of the basic and actual capacities — Man is good — Basic capacities in the literature — Consequences
2. Concepts of the Religious Worldview	42
«Appropriate prayer» — Dangerous tea — Religion as giving meaning — Religion and Zeitgeist — Faith, religion, church — Religion and psychology — Consequences
3. The Contribution of Scientific Thinking	55
«Believe in God and tie your camel securely» — Science as finding meaning — The omnipotence of reason (science without religion) — The meaning of the capacity to know — Religion in science — Zeitgeist and psychopathology — The atomic threat — Scientists vs founders of religions — Consequences

4. The Life of the Individual 65
 «Don't forget who you were!» — Can everyone be happy in his own fashion? — The three pillars of Positive Psychotherapy — A. The positive approach — B. The contents approach — Microtrauma theory — Four ways of coping with conflicts — Modes of the capacity to love — C. Five stages of self-help — Consequences

CHAPTER 3: PSYCHOTHERAPY OF SMALL STEPS

1. Three working Possibilities of Positive Psychotherapy 81
 «The eager spectators and the elephant» — Body, soul, spirit — Three possible approaches: body, environment, time — Present, future, and past — Consequences
2. Meaning in East and West 88
 «One roof garden and two worlds» — East-West concepts: on the quest for meaning — Marriage, family — Life, death, future — Primary capacities — Secondary capacities — Examples of medical terms and some views of illness — Practice: for example, on the question of leaving one's parents — East-West concepts in politics — Transcultural aspects in the understanding of individual conflicts — Consequences
3. The Meaning of Illness 108
 «An optimist» — What does Positive Psychotherapy mean? — Translation of conventional illness terminology — Practical application of the «positive translation» — Positive procedure in the therapeutic process — Traditional interpretation/Positive interpretation: Adiposity — Alcoholism — Ambivalent attitude — Fear of attachment — Fear of loneliness — Fear of groups — Anorexia nervosa — Bronchial asthma — Bedwetting — Depression — Jealousy — Irritability — Exhibitionism — Existential anxiety — Delayed ejaculation — Precocious ejaculation — Laziness — Fetishism — Fixation — Inhibition — Heart attack — Compulsive neurosis — Aggressivity — Frigidity — Hypertonicity — Homosexuality — Hypochondria — Hysteria — Kleptomania — Criminality — Paranoia — Phobia — Impotence — Psychosomatic symptoms — Mania — Masochism — Masturbation — Narcissism — Rheumatism (abdominal) — Rivalry (sibling) — Sadism — Schizophrenia — Vertigo — Stress — Stomach ulcers — Disobedience, insolence — Attention-getting behavior of children — Self-neglect — Change of life — Positive aspects of loneliness — Consequences
4. Five Stages in Positive Psychotherapy 145
 «Easy cure» — Psychotherapy, self-help — Stage One: observation/distancing — «Two hedgehogs» — Stage Two: making an inventory — «Peacock's feet» — Application of the four ways of coping with conflict — Stage Three: situational encouragement — «Beautiful antlers» — Relativity of values — Stage Four: verbalization — «How does a war start?» — Partner group, family group — Stage Five: broadening of goals — «The successful merchant» — Crisis as opportunity — Application of the five stages — Therapy — Consequences

CHAPTER 4: QUESTIONS OF MEANING 157

Many questions, many answers — «The appropriate word» — Child rearing and psychotherapy — Psychological meaning of time — What do you understand by basic capacities? — Is man essentially good? — Where are the basic capacities found? — What are the functions of the actual capacities? — How do you as a psychotherapist stand in relation to sexuality? — What does child rearing consist of in terms of contents? — How are love and justice related? — What is the relationship between anxiety, aggression, and imitation? — Can one get something back that one has let slip away? — Good intentions — The unknown — Man and wife — What does faith have to do with psychotherapy? — What do all the religions have in common? — Seven attributes — From the point of view of psychology, how do prejudices arise? — Religion and well-known personalities — why do the learned and the religious leaders speak so harshly of a new religion? What explanations are there for the existence of a Creator? — Why can't one know the essence of God? — Religion and existential anxiety — Isn't everything over with death? — Reincarnation — What do the scientists say about life after death?

CHAPTER 5: THE GOLDEN AGE OF THE FUTURE	187
«End or dawn?» — Planned future — Future made to order? — Suggestions and considerations concerning world peace — The contribution of the politicians to the transcultural encounter — The contribution of the religious leaders — The contribution of the scientists — The contribution of the individual — «The dream and its meaning»
Bibliography	199
Index of stories	203