

Contents

List of Figures vi

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: Giving New Validity to Old Forms 1

1. "Mother to Son": The Rise, Removal, and Return of Hughes 15
2. Black and Red: Accusations of Subversiveness 32
3. King and Poetry: Quotations, Revisions, and Unsolicited Poems 55
4. "Dream Deferred": King's Use of Hughes's Most Popular Poem 82
5. "Poem for a Man": King's Unusual Request 108
6. "Youth": Hughes's Poem and King's Chiasmus 122
7. "I Dream a World": Rewriting Hughes's Signature Poem 142
8. "I Have a Dream": King Speaks in Rocky Mount 160
9. "The Psalm of Brotherhood": King at Detroit's March for Jobs 176
10. The March on Washington: Veiling Hughes's Poetry 195

Conclusion: Extending the Dream 205

Notes 217

Bibliography 235

Index 243