

Contents

Editorial Foreword to the Series	xi
Preface	xiii

PART I INTERACTIONS

1. Shouts, Assertions, and Disputations: some comments on various approaches to organization analysis and development	3
2. Totus Mundus Agit Histrionem: an exposition of a model of organizational life based upon the theatrical metaphor	19
3. Scripts, Whiffs, and Walnuts: some examples of patterns of behaviour expected and somewhat less expected	30
4. Interaction as Drama: a detailed analysis of interaction utilizing the theatrical metaphor	40

PART II ORGANIZATIONS

5. The Elements of Organizing: the application of some of the ideas to behaviour within organizations.	57
6. Boring Stories and Exciting Dramas: some comments on the nature of change in organizations	68

PART III INTERVENTIONS

7. The Interventionist as Critic: the diagnosis of problems by organization development consultants	85
8. The Interventionist as Dramaturg: the planning of action by the consultant and his clients	94
9. The Pygmalion Effect: a case study involving counselling	108
10. Eating Your Elephant a Spoonful at a Time: a case study of attempted change on a large scale	118
11. Pawns, Players, and Creative Anarchists: reflections on the role and power of interventionists	130
References	141
Index	147