

Facing Trauma in Contemporary American Literary Discourse:

Stories of Survival and Possibility

By

Laura Virginia Castor

Cambridge
Scholars
Publishing

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Permissions.....	ix
Acknowledgments .....	x
Introduction .....	1
Stories of Survival and Possibility in Uncertain Times
Chapter 1 .....	26
“No Shadows Under Us”: Rewriting Trauma with Autobiographical Fiction in Louise Erdrich’s Shadow Tag
Chapter 2 .....	40
Listening to the Language of Pain in Siri Hustvedt’s The Shaking Woman and Melanie Thernstrom’s The Pain Chronicles
Chapter 3 .....	52
Reading 9/11 Prehistories in Nicole Krauss’s Man Walks Into a Room
Chapter 4 .....	68
“Making Songs of the Marrow”: Joy Harjo’s Music, Poetry, and Mvskoke Ways of Knowing
Chapter 5 .....	84
Remembering Wor(l)ds in Linda Hogan’s Solar Storms
Chapter 6 .....	102
Unsettling Empathy in Jhumpa Lahiri’s The Lowland
Chapter 7 .....	121
“Hurt on the inside but still strong and beautiful”: Gendering Resiliency in Toni Morrison’s Home
Chapter 8 .....	132
Coming of Age in Louise Erdrich’s The Round House

Afterword .....	150
Notes.....	156
Works Cited.....	178
Index .....	204