

Ricardo and International Trade

Edited by Shigeyoshi Senga,
Masatomi Fujimoto,
and Taichi Tabuchi

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction: Ricardo's international trade theory 200 years on	1
TAICHI TABUCHI, MASATOMI FUJIMOTO, AND SHIGEYOSHI SENGA
PART I
Ricardo's 'four magic numbers' and beyond	7
1 A plain man's guide to David Ricardo's principle of comparative advantage	9
HEINZ D. KURZ
2 Ricardo and international trade theory	20
ROY J. RUFFIN
3 David Ricardo's trade theory: anticipations and later developments	33
ANDREA MANESCHI
4 Yukizawa's interpretation of Ricardo's 'theory of comparative costs'	48
TAICHI TABUCHI
5 The Ricardian system: a graphical exposition	60
NERI SALVADORI AND RODOLFO SIGNORINO

PART II

Money and/or international values 83

- 6 A calm investigation into Mr Ricardo's principles of international trade 85

GILBERT FACCARELLO

- 7 Money and Ricardo's "magic numbers" 120

JÉRÔME DE BOYER DES ROCHES

- 8 Foreign trade, international values, and gains from trade: Ricardo, Pennington, Whewell, and John Stuart Mill 139

CHRISTIAN GEHRKE

- 9 Equilibrium in the international economy: Ricardo's specie flow mechanism – logic and development 164

SHIGEHIRO NARUSE

- 10 On Ricardo's two rectification problems 195

YOSHINORI SHIOZAWA

PART III

Controversies over Ricardian international trade theory and policy 217

- 11 Foreign trade, profits, and growth: a comparative study of Ricardo and Malthus 219

ATSUSHI MASUNAGA

- 12 J. S. Mill's idea of international trade: the inheritance from Ricardo's free trade and Torrens' reciprocity 237

MASATOMI FUJIMOTO

- 13 Ricardo and the Committee on Agricultural Distress of 1821 254

MASAHARU HATTORI

- Index* 273